Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

JANUARY 30, 2022

Jeremiah 1:4-5,17-19;

1 Corinthians 12:31—13:13;

Luke 4:21-30

Seek the truth and practice it in love. This sums up the message of our faith. The truth is not always popular. Jeremiah was called to be a prophet when he was a teenager. Few people think that the young have anything worthwhile to say, and Jeremiah's message was definitely not popular. He told the people that the nation had become so corrupt that God would destroy it.

He counseled surrender – and was branded a traitor. Yet his message was from God. Today's first reading describes God's call of Jeremiah: He called him and dedicated him from before his birth. He called him to stand up against the powerful and influential. His only consolation would be that he spoke the truth and was doing God's will.

Today's Gospel follows last Sunday's stirring announcement of Jesus at his hometown synagogue. The words of the prophets were fulfilled in him! At first the people were glad: a hometown boy had made good. But then they found him too much for them. They wanted miracles. They wondered where he came by his wisdom and power, since he was just a hometown boy. He said good things about Gentiles – and that did it! They were so furious that they tried to kill him! Crowds are fickle; they are swayed by emotion; they are rarely interested in truth.

The second reading is the most beautiful chapter in the entire Bible. Paul had been discussing how the Corinthians should use their talents and spiritual gifts: The gifts came from the one Spirit, and should be used for each other; the gifts were for the building up of the Body of Christ (the Church) in unity.

This leads him to the "Digression on Charity." If you have every gift (tongues, prophecy, miracles), but have not love – you are nothing! Paul gives the qualities of fraternal love which should be the mark of every Christian: Love is patient, kind, never jealous, never snobbish, never rude, never self-seeking. Love doesn't put on airs or give in to anger or bear grudges. Love rejoices with the truth. Love is not just a nicey-nicey feeling, for if we truly love another person, we want them to come to the truth and be saved. If we love each other, we first of all are concerned for each other's spiritual welfare. Love seeks to radiate the great truth of God to all persons.

4th Sunday in Ordinary Time

January 30, 2022

This weekend the gospel is the negative reaction to the announcement of Jesus as Messiah. Sometimes we too can have negative reactions to what Jesus is saying to us in our lives about what He calls us to. We can act like the people in the gospel today and like the world and reject and want to deride Christ or His message or His Church, and want to toss Him off the cliff like they tried to do. Or we can open our hearts and see Christ for who He is in the challenges He gives to each of us directly. So many get angry at God when He calls us to change and to something new, but it is always something better. Even if it is less comfortable, it is always better and always more powerful in this world. God knew you before He formed you in the womb as Jeremiah says, so don't you think the One who formed you and knew you and made you also knows the greatest way for you to live and love? Let's choose today not to close ourselves off but to open our hearts to Christ the Messiah to be made new and to be transformed.

One of the biggest things I am wanting to make sure I do as a pastor is communicate what all is going on in the parish and what all the needs truly are. I think so often many in the parish don't even scratch the surface of the many endeavors, especially physically and financially that take place in the parish in keeping up this amazing place and keeping this amazing community alive and active. So, to better communication, especially be even more transparent financially, I want you to hear from one of you. I want you to hear it from a fellow parishioner where we are. I plan for this to be an annual "State of the Parish" type address. I ask that you give your full attention to this great opportunity to show you the better and better ways that we will continue to manage the resources God has given us here at St. Francis Solanus. It truly is an exciting time to be a part of this parish.

Small Groups

A few weeks ago, we asked for parishioners who participated in small groups to call the Parish Office and give us their information. With the feedback we have received we know that there are small groups meeting in the parish but there are not as many active groups as when "Why Catholic" was a program here. We want to revive small groups here at St. Francis Solanus. Our parish will be stronger and more active when this is done.

We are asking that parishioners who are willing to lead a small group call the office and give them your information. If you already know who will be in your group, please give them those names too. We want to help your group be successful. Fr. Arisman has found a good training program to help with this success. When the group is formed, we will also help you find a program that interests the group. This is not meant to be one size fits all.

Please take this to your prayer time. Ask yourself if this is something that will deepen your relationship with Jesus. Also, Fr. Arisman, the priests, the deacons, and other parish leaders may suggest that you consider this. Please do so.

Meeting in a small group (5—6 members) is fun and can be important to a persons faith life.

Franciscan Farewell Party and Statue Dedication

February 4, 2022

6:30 p.m.

We will begin with a small prayer service in the church to begin the blessing of the statue. Immediately following the prayer service, we will have a cocktail hour with appetizers and desserts to celebrate the gift of 160 years of Franciscans. During 2020 when they left, we were not able to do a proper goodbye and thank you to the Franciscans. This event is our opportunity to truly recognize them and thank them. This will be a formal event with a chance to say goodbye and thank the Franciscans in a real way! As part of the thank you, please come ready to hear a new opportunity of a way to memorialize your gratitude for the gift of the Franciscans over these many years.

More information to come!

As part of this event, I would like you to write BRIEFLY one memory, maybe one or two paragraphs, about a story where they touched your life and shared Christ with you. These will be shared publicly so be careful what you share. Also, if you can bring a COPY (you will not get them back) of one or two photos of memories with the Franciscans over the years at the parish. Please turn these into the Parish Office.

Please RSVP to the Parish Office at 222-2898 BY February 2, 2022.
