Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

FEBRUARY 6, 2022

Isaiah 6:1-2a,3-8; 1 Corinthians 15:1-11;
Luke 5:1-11

From all eternity, God knew you! From all eternity, he planned to create you! From all eternity, he called you to be perfect as he is perfect! Everyone of us has a call from God to be a saint. Everyone of us has a call from God to serve him in a way which is unique: No other human being who will ever live will ever be able to give God the specific honor and glory that you, in your uniqueness can!

Today we reflect on our individual and specific call from God. What does God want you to do with your life? To know this and to follow it is the only way you'll ever be happy in this life and in the next! The first reading of Mass tells of the call of Isaiah. The scene is the splendor of God's glory in the temple. Isaiah protests that he is a sinner; God cleanses his sin, and asks whom he will send. Isaiah answers what we must answer: "Here I am, send me!"

Paul had been a terrible persecutor of the Church. Yet God called him to conversion of heart. Paul was unworthy, but God called him to be an apostle. Paul recognizes his sinfulness, but says that God's grace can do anything . . . even make him an apostle.

The Gospel tells of the call of Peter. We can hardly imagine a less likely person to be an apostle. He had hoof in mouth disease. He was impetuous. He was dense. He was good at fishing, but little else. He asks the Lord to leave him alone, for he is a sinner. Yet Jesus calls him to be "father of men."

Reflect on your own personal call from God. Especially today reflect and pray about our need for young men to respond to Christ's call to his priesthood. Jesus Christ is calling some from this very parish to be priests. Pray that they will have the strength to answer his call. May they – and all of us – answer God's call as Isaiah did: "Here I am, send me!"

What are our excuses for not doing God's work? Lack of talent? Sinfulness? Weakness? The Lord won't allow our excuses. He forgives. He empowers. He enables us to do things beyond our natural abilities. Don't refuse him.

Our Parish Family

Dear Parishioners,

Well, first of all, I'm glad to bring the month of January to a close last week. Between the frigid weather and the snow and ice, my tolerance of winter is coming to an end. With our new month of February, we are closer to the start of spring and perhaps a change in temperature, a glimmer of hope for all who are ready for a change. Not sure what the ground hog will predict this week, but at least the calendar says that spring is around the corner. Just as I print this, we will probably have a foot of snow the latter part of this week.

Our readings today address a common human experience. In the presence of God, we sometimes feel so sinful and unworthy, excusing ourselves from any call to holiness in life. We find in our first reading Isaiah entering the temple where he experiences the presence of God in his midst. He was so moved by that experience that he felt his own unworthiness, or in his words his uncleanness and sinfulness. In the midst of this experience, he realized that he could not fulfill being a prophet as God had called him, because he was so unclean and sinful. Yet, God reached down, gave him His grace of forgiveness, and then gave him the courage through that same grace to be the spokesperson for God. In dealing with human beings, God continues to call each of us to a life of holiness. Yes, we are never worthy. And yes, we, like Isaiah, feel ourselves unclean and sinful, yet God still calls. Hopefully, we like Isaiah will say, "Here I am, send me." In our gospel, there is somewhat of a repeat performance. It doesn't happen in the temple, but rather the Lord's presence is felt on a boat. In the sequence of events Jesus gets into Simon Peter's boat and preaches from it to the people on the shore. Then He asks to be taken to deeper water and advises that they lower their nets. Reluctantly, they did as Jesus requested and ended up filling their nets with fish. This experience of the presence of Jesus in their midst moved Simon Peter to say, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man." But Jesus did not leave Simon Peter with that excuse, but instead told him "from now on you will be catching men." Yes, we all feel at times very unworthy, unclean, and sinful in the presence of our God. And we are. But God nevertheless calls each of us from our sinfulness to serve Him in holiness in some way. And there is no excuse that will ever prevent us from doing His will in our lives.

This weekend we conclude our Catholic School's Week. I want to thank the many people involved in making this week so special. I especially want to thank our parents and parishioners for supporting St. Peter School. We do have a special gift that is central to our parish mission, bringing the message of Jesus Christ to people in our community.

Because of COVID, we were unable to bring Holy Communion to our shut-in and nursing homes for quite some time. We are finally back on schedule as the nursing homes are opening up for our ministries, and our shut-ins are more inviting for us to visit. If you are a shut-in and would like Holy Communion on Sundays or on First Fridays, I ask you to give the Parish Office a call (217-222-3155) and leave your name and address with us. Thank you!

Fr. Leo's column continued..

On the weekend of February 19-20, we will be having another collection for our sister parishes in Haiti. This collection is asking for underwear and socks, boys and girls, sizes 2-3 to adult small. We will have containers in the Narthex. Upon completion of this weekend collection, we will begin the process of packing things away to be sent by ship to Haiti. So please be generous in your gifts for the children of our sister parishes. I still remember when I went to visit to see them in the sea of orange shirts with St. Peter logo on the front. They were so proud and happy to be wearing them.

Please consult the bulletin for employment opportunities in St. Peter Grade School. We are especially in need of a teacher aide for the remaining school year. And if we want to have a daycare for next school year, we need someone to step up and apply.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: Puns to enjoy:

I just saw some red breasted birds sitting in the sun and selling ice cream...I think they were Baskin Robins.

Insurance companies are warning campers....if your tent is stolen during the night, you won't be covered.

You can tell an ant's gender by putting it in water. If it sinks, girl ant. If it floats, buoyant!

Yesterday, I saw a man spill a bunch of scrabble letters on the road. So, I asked him, "What's the word on the street?"

I don't mean to brag, but cashiers are always checking me out.

What starts with "w" and ends with "t"? Yes, what!
