Fourth Sunday of Lent

MARCH 27, 2022

Joshua 5:9a,10-12; 2 Corinthians 5:17-21;
Luke 15:1-3,11-32

[There are alternate Biblical texts that may be used for the first and second readings.]

The Fourth Sunday of Lent is usually called “Laetare Sunday.” (It’s pronounced “lay-TAH-ray.”) It means “Rejoice!” It is the first word of the Latin Entrance Antiphon or Introit.

Why do we rejoice during Lent? Our Opening Prayer says that we rejoice in God’s word. Our first reading speaks of the joy of the Israelites as they finally entered the Promised Land. Our Responsorial Psalm tells us to look to the Lord that we may be radiant with joy. The second reading encourages us to rejoice because we are a new creation. At the end of the Gospel, the Father says that “we must celebrate and rejoice” because the lost is found, the dead has risen.

There are other reasons for joy: In the ancient Church, the Lenten fast (and every day was a fast day) did not begin until Monday after the Fourth Sunday of Lent. Today, then, was a kind of “Mardi Gras” — a day of rejoicing before the Lenten Fast. Still later in the history of the Church, people rejoiced because Lent is half finished; we are half way to Easter.

Our primary reason for rejoicing, however, must always be God’s unlimited and unconditional love of us. Even when we were God’s enemies because of sin, God loved us and sent his Son to save us. Even when we are weak and when we fail, the Lord still reaches out to us with his love and mercy — just as the Father in the parable.

Do you know of someone who is burdened with sin? Tell him/her of God’s love. Do you know of someone who thinks he/she is nothing and that life is worthless? Tell him/her that God loves him/her with an everlasting love. Do you think that you are so rotten that not even God can help you? Read the story of the “Prodigal Son” and learn the love of our heavenly Father. Rejoice! God loves you! He can heal you and make you a person of joy!

This weekend’s readings are familiar, while spectacular, but not easy. Their wandering in the desert has ended and therefore so has the manna that provided them food for the journey to the promised land. This is what we call the Eucharist, the new manna, called food for the journey. The Eucharist is food for the journey to the promised land of heaven. Having this great gift is a foretaste of heaven just like the manna was a foretaste of the promised land. A land flowing with milk and honey, the manna tasted sweet like honey. The Eucharist is the foretaste of heaven. As we receive the body, blood, soul, and divinity of Jesus Christ we receive the real presence to long for the day we are brought IN to the presence of God. Once we reach the promised land, we won’t need the real presence as we are in the real presence; just as the manna ended, but instead we are eternally present for the Mass in heaven in a new and full and real way that the Mass here on earth prepares us to be ready.

The second reading and the gospel though this weekend say that for us to receive the manna, we must be reconciled with God. Christ has reconciled us to the Father, we just must open our hearts to receive that gift that is freely given in baptism and renewed in the gift of confession. Through Christ’s reconciliation and the gift of baptism we are made heirs. This familiar story of the prodigal son isn’t just about being reconciled with God, but it is about being heirs, good heirs. Neither heir in this gospel was good. The one heir demands his inheritance now, which means he wished his father dead and demanded what was freely given and what he was not noticing he already had. So often we are demanding from God something when He has already freely given it, but I want it in the way I want it. The son that demanded the inheritance already had everything that the father had, all he had to do was ask and it was his. But instead he demanded and took and squandered. BUT this isn’t the only heir that is an issue. The other son received his inheritance, but he was missing the fact that he already had all the father had already and all he had to do was ask; he received it, but wasn’t grateful for all he had, and had thought himself deserving and yet also didn’t think this was enough. The son who squandered ran back to the father, but in humility didn’t find himself worthy, yet the father declared him worthy and welcomed him home. The other son thought himself worthy and was angry when the father was merciful and demanded more. He had no humility but thought himself deserving.

How often are we the son who squanders all? How often are we the son that remains faithful, but is bitter and angry and prideful in how deserving we are? How often are we the son who has humility and seeks reconciliation? How often are we the son who doesn’t see a need to be reconciled with the father or his brother? How often do we allow our pride to keep us from full reconciliation because we don’t see a need to run to the Father in the sacrament of reconciliation because “I haven’t done anything THAT bad!”? How often does our pride keep us from reconciling with our brother and not rejoicing in what they have received, or rejoicing in God’s mercy He has given to those that in humility turn back to the Father? This Lent, don’t squander your inheritance, but turn back in humility. This Lent, don’t lose sight of the abundance of all the Father has given you and be ungrateful and prideful and unforgiving, but turn back to the Father in gratitude and humility so that you may be reconciled to the Father and your brother. Lent is the time for reconciliation with the Father and each other to the free gift you’ve been offered in your inheritance as a son or daughter of the Lord.
