Sixth Sunday of Easter

MAY 22, 2022

Acts 15:1-2,22-29; Revelation 21:10-14,22-23;
 John 14:23-29

Jesus Christ did not leave us orphans when he ascended into heaven. He promised the Holy Spirit who would guide the Church and confirm her in the truth. Our Gospel tells of his promise of the Spirit: The Spirit would call to mind everything that Jesus had taught; he would instruct the Church in everything. He also told us that anyone who loved him would be true to his word.

We know the word of Jesus through the Church, which is protected from teaching error by the power of the Holy Spirit. Jesus did not solve all problems or give his instructions in minute detail. Nevertheless, everything that is taught by the Church throughout the centuries comes integrally from the “deposit of faith” which Jesus imparted to the Spirit.

Jesus did not solve the question of the relationship of Jews and Gentiles in the Church. Did a person need to become a Jew before being a Christian? Were the non-Jews even invited to share salvation? Did Jewish Christians still need to follow the Law of Moses? These and many other questions were solved by the Church some years after Jesus had ascended to heaven. They were solved by the Church guided by the Holy Spirit.

Today’s first reading tells us of the council of apostles at Jerusalem who determined that Gentile converts do not need to practice the Law of Moses. The Church is still developing and growing and understanding the teaching of Jesus more perfectly.

The Spirit gives the Church the charism of infallibility. The Church cannot teach error on matters of faith and morals. The chief agencies of this infallibility are the pope when he speaks “ex cathedra” at an Ecumenical or General Council.

Even though we do not see Jesus with eyes of body, we are confident that he guides the Church through the power of the Holy Spirit. He is with us. Let us be faithful to him and to his teaching.

6th Sunday of Easter

Today we hear the question and the apostolic letter answering the question of the necessity of circumcision for salvation. This is the model the Catholic Church has used throughout its history; the missing part is commonly called the first ecumenical council of Jerusalem. The apostles gathered and shared a discussion of what Christ revealed to them. Peter spoke and the apostles agreed, and then drafted a letter to send to the “churches” instructing them. We still see this today. A question is posed. The bishops discuss. The pope and bishops issue a letter to the churches of the world instructing and guiding. It isn’t consensus building, but truth seeking and clarifying. Differing letters have been issued instructing and teaching on various questions over the many years of the Church clarify a doubt or question someone has. The “churches” they send letters to are founded by the apostles themselves; remember that to be a “church” one must have direct apostolic lineage. This unites us as one Church founded on the foundation of the apostles, with Peter being the first among equals, and Christ as the cornerstone. Seen so clearly in the Acts of the Apostles and the council of Jerusalem, as well as in the book of Revelation with the 12 gates and 12 courses of stones and 12 angels and 12 on and on and on. The number 12 showing the fullness of revelation for all nations and all peoples; marking the names of the 12 apostles that shows all of the Church, which is the fulfillment of the fullness of the 12 tribes, which showed all of Israel. We are called to be one Church founded by Christ. Any division is not of Christ.

Jesus tells us in John’s gospel today of that oneness and unity we are called to have in the Church. It is not just a consensus; it is a unity lived out truly in our baptism and reception of the Eucharist. It is a unity only found in the Catholic Church. We are called to love Jesus and keep His word, not what I want, but what Christ wants. We are promised the gift of the Holy Spirit and Peace. He reminds us not to be afraid, for the peace of Christ cannot be taken away no matter the troubles or struggles ahead. This Advocate/Spirit was promised to the Church that she remain one and that the gates of hell would not prevail over the Church Christ founded and promised the Spirit. In unity with His Church we find truth. In unity with His Church we find love. That love is shown to us in Christ as both Lamb of Sacrifice and Temple. In Christ we see the unity that we seek, and unity with Him and His Church shows forth the eternal city, the new Jerusalem, glory of God and His light for all the world to see through it. Christ is the Son and our sun. He is our light. Now we the Catholic Church must experience that unity and truth and be that light and love of Christ to the world.
