Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

JULY 17, 2022

Genesis 18:1-10a;

Colossians 1:24-28;

Luke 10:38-42

In the nomadic culture of the ancient Middle East, hospitality was the principal virtue. Even an enemy had to be treated as a brother as long as he was under your tent. In the first reading, Abraham shows this kind of hospitality to three “strangers.” He was rewarded by the promise that his free wife, Sarah, would have a son.

But, as important as hospitality was, Jesus says that there is something even more important: Listening to and reflecting on his word are more important than the details of hospitality.

Someone must do the cooking and cleaning up. We must never permit others to work while we play. But when a friend visits, we should pay attention to the friend, and not to minute details of hospitality. How much more should we pay attention to our friend, Jesus, who is always with us? Martha is the ideal church worker; Mary is the ideal disciple.

The second reading teaches the value of our crosses when offered in union with Christ. We are one with him in the Mystical Body, the Church. Our words, works, and prayers, take on a new and infinite dimension when offered through and with Christ.

We participate in the very redemptive act of his cross. In this reading, Paul also marvels at the great “mystery” of God’s mercy. Jews hated non-Jews (Gentiles), and non-Jews (Gentiles) hated Jews. The “mystery” is that God has brought the two together in Jesus Christ.

Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time, July 17, 2022

Dear Parishioners,

This weekend the Church celebrates the 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time. Our readings for this weekend speak to us of a virtue for which we have been striving as a parish, namely, the virtue of hospitality. I only hope that our parishioners here at St. Peter recognize this virtue as very much being a part of our goal as a parish, namely, to be a stewardship parish. This means that we make others feel welcome here at St. Peter, from the time that they enter our doors to the time that they leave. If we give the impression of being a parish of hospitality, then we can be assured that they will return again to worship with us. Too often we become so busy with things that clutter our lives, often center our lives on people with whom we feel comfortable, that we fail to welcome the new family, or fail to recognize a new person among us. I challenge our ushers and our parishioners that if you see someone new, just go out of your way to welcome them to our celebration. Remember our stewardship prayer that prays: “My church will be friendly, if I am.”

Our first reading is from the Book of Genesis. Three men come to visit Abraham who opens up his tent and his family to these visitors. Abraham bathes their feet, gives them rest from the sun in some shade, slaughters a steer and bakes some bread, and feeds and nourishes them as he shows that virtue of hospitality. In return, when the strangers leave, they promise that at this same time the next year that Sarah will have a son. The one desire that both Abraham and Sarah had was that desire to be parents and yet this desire was unfulfilled. But because of their hospitality to these strangers, because of their hospitality toward these visitors, the desire of being parents will be fulfilled. Sarah would conceive and she and Abraham would have their long-awaited son, Isaac. In the letter to the Hebrews, we hear the author say to us: “Do not neglect to show hospitality, for by that means some have entertained angels without knowing it.”

Then in our Gospel we hear of the family Mary and Martha who opened up their home to this man from Nazareth, named Jesus. These women who would become an important part of Jesus’ life would welcome Jesus and feed Him with food and support Him with their love. Jesus was truly at home with them and from them He would refresh Himself with their friendship. But our Gospel today shows a little frustration on the part of Martha, as she seemed to be doing the work while Mary sat at the feet of Jesus. Then we hear Jesus say, “Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing and Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her.” We can be anxious over many things, but when we, like Mary, sit and listen to Jesus in our prayers, the anxieties and worries melt away. A great lesson to be learned.

This weekend we welcome Fr. Francis Valentine Odoom from the diocese of Cape Coast, Ghana, who is here to speak to us from the Missionary Co-Op of our diocese. He will be asking for any financial support for his diocese and the work that they are doing. I ask you to listen and then give generously as you always do. Special envelopes may be found in the pews.

The School of St. Peter

Week of July 17, 2022

A Message from Mrs. Cindy Venvertloh

"St. Peter School provides a quality education built on Catholic values and teachings."

Ziggy's Summer of STEM program

On the last day of school our students were introduced to the STEM Lab's Mascot, Ziggy the Robot, with an outdoor assembly. The assembly was set up in stations with the students rotating to 6 different Summer STEM Stations. Mrs. Genenbacher spoke to the students about how STEM is everywhere, not just in the lab and something you do at school. Each school family was sent home with their own "flat" Ziggy the Robot in order to participate in the Ziggy's Summer of STEM program. This optional summer program encourages students to take a picture with either the flat or digital version of Ziggy this summer anytime they participate in a STEM activity, visit a cool location, or meet someone in the STEM field. Once the photo is taken we are asking parents to post it on social media using the hashtag #ziggyssummerofstem making sure their post is public. This fall we will end this Summer of STEM program with our STEM Lab's Birthday Bash and see the final map of all the destinations Ziggy was able to travel to during his summer of vacation. Please see the St. Peter STEM Lab Facebook page for more photos and don't forget to post your photos with Ziggy.

Fr. Leo’s column continued..

I ask your prayers next weekend for the candidates and team for the women’s Cursillo that will be taking place from Thursday to Sunday, July 21-24. Let’s pray that the gift of the Holy Spirit will invade their lives and draw them ever closer to our Lord and His Church.

Also, next week, July 24-29, we begin what is termed “Totus Tuus.” This is a week experience sponsored by the diocese. During the morning grades 1-6 will meet, and in the evening grades 7-12. These meetings will be in the cafeteria of St. Peter Church. St. Francis Church will be co-sponsors with St. Peter Church in providing this opportunity for our young people. Totus Tuus is Latin and comes from St. John Paul II who lived this phrase, which means “Totally Yours.” Hoping that after this experience our young people will be able to model that phrase in their lives.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: A man was out on the baseball field the other day and happened to see a young fellow playing with a bat and ball.

“Watch this,” he insisted, and he threw the ball up in the air, swung at it, and missed. “Strike one,” the observing man said.

He threw it up a second time, swung at it, and missed, so the man said, “Strike two.”

He tossed the ball up a third time, swung, and missed again, and so the man said, “Strike three! You’re out!”

The boy smiled and said, “Man, I’m really an awesome pitcher.”

Dear St. Peter Parishioners,

Greetings to you! Thank you so very much for the warm welcome you have shown me during my first few weeks here at the Church of Saint Peter. I have enjoyed getting to know many of you and look forward to getting to know many more in the days, weeks, and months to come. In a particular way, I want to thank Msgr. Enlow and the parish staff for helping me to get settled and acquainted with the place. They have been wonderful and generous.

Please continue to pray for me as I begin my ministry here and be assured of my prayers as well. In thanksgiving for His many gifts, I remain,
Sincerely yours in Christ,

Fr. Zach, z.samples@cospo.org, 217-214-0126 (Direct)
