Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

AUGUST 21, 2022

Isaiah 66:18-21; Hebrews 12:5-7,11-13;
Luke 13:22-30

Quite often, the theme of the Sunday Mass is summed up in the refrain for the Responsorial Psalm. Today the refrain is: “Go out to all the world, and tell the good news!” It is tough to keep the commandments of God. It is tough to stand up for morality in an indifferent world, or to stand for purity in a sex-crazy world, or to stand for peace in a violent world. It is tough to stand for integrity and honesty, for humility and charity.

But the toughest command of all (and the most neglected) is the command of God to go out to all the world and tell the Good News! We know that God loves all people. But people will know that God loves them only if we go out to tell them! We can’t build enclaves around ourselves or close in on ourselves. We are responsible for the salvation of the world.

Today’s first reading is from the last chapter in Isaiah. At the time this was written, much of Judaism had become smug, narrow-minded, and prejudiced against all non-Jews (Gentiles). The reading proclaims God’s love for the “nations” (another word for Gentiles) such as Put, Lud, Mosoch, and Tubal. (These are roughly the table of nations around the Mediterranean Sea as listed in Genesis 10.)

In the Gospel, Jesus speaks of some who think that they are on the “inside” but who will find themselves on the “outside.” They talk a good game of Christianity, but they fail to practice it. Perhaps it is because they have failed to consider their obligation to spread the Good News to their neighbor.

The second reading urges us not to be discouraged. We must not lose hope when we encounter difficulties. We should accept our crises as crosses, as our discipline from the Lord. Discipline may seem harsh, but it is for our own good. So straighten up and toughen out. Renew your zeal to be an instrument of God’s Good News to the world.

Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time, August 21, 2022

Dear Parishioners,

On this third weekend in our month of August, the realization that summer vacation is now over begins to hit home. All those things that we had planned and didn't do, must wait another year. Even though summer is not officially over, with the start of a new school year this week there is every indication that the vacation part of this summer is over. The weather may still indicate otherwise, but the presence of our kids in school says something entirely different. But we do want to welcome our young people back to another year of learning.

In our gospel today, we find people of Jesus' time concerned about being "saved." What this basically meant was being saved from the final upheaval which was expected just before the glorious triumph of the Messiah. It was thought to be a time of horror, a terrible time as people made ready for the coming of the Messiah. Everyone prayed to be delivered from that ordeal of suffering. Thus the question, "Are many going to be saved?" refers to this ordeal rather than any thought of eternal salvation. Jesus doesn't really answer the question but rather tells them to "enter through the narrow gate." When the ordeal happens many will try to enter the city through the city gate before it is closed. The rush of people will make it almost impossible. Instead, Jesus tells them to enter through the narrow gate which would take all their strength and effort to enter through this narrow and often unused entrance. But this particular gospel was also used to refer to eternal salvation. And so in this gospel we find Jesus calling on us to use our ingenuity and all our strength toward our eternal goal. Everyone is called to salvation, but not everyone will get there. With God's grace, we must use all of our time, talents, and treasures toward this everlasting goal of salvation.

I want our parishioners to know that if they ever receive an email from me, please check the email address. Lately someone has been sending emails to people of the parish, asking for gift cards. I have been a priest for over 47 years and have never asked for money or gift cards from parishioners. It is a scam and I hate it that parishioners have to deal with this fraudulent behavior. Please just ignore and delete these requests whenever you get them. If you are confused, all it takes is a phone call to the Rectory and we will clarify. But I have never asked for money, gift cards, from any parishioner.

In an appeal to our school families, I asked some parents to consider giving of their time and efforts to continue our scouting program here at St. Peter Church. Ever since 1995, St. Peter Church had an active and involved Cub Scout and Boy Scout troop. Lately however, we have found that we have enthusiasm from our young Cub and Boy Scouts but we are lacking in parental leadership. We are in need of parent leadership in roles as Cubmaster and individual den leaders in order for us to continue our Scouting programs. Please, we are asking our parents to step up and help us continue our Scouting program. In our day and age, our young people need the values of Scouting in their lives more so than ever. And we will be happy to guide and train any volunteers in this endeavor. If you are interested in helping us, please contact me, Mrs. Venvertloh, or Mrs. Reichert.

A Message from Mrs. Cindy Venvertloh

"St. Peter School provides a quality education built on Catholic values and teachings."

BACK TO SCHOOL PRAYER WALK

Many participated in the Back to School Prayer Walk to kick off the school year.

KICK OFF THE SCHOOL YEAR OUTDOOR MASS

The turn out for the Kick Off the School Year Mass was overwhelming. It was great to see so many of our returning as well as new families celebrate Mass outdoors before dropping off school supplies and meeting the teachers and staff. We were certainly blessed with a beautiful evening to focus on the start of an exciting school year ahead.

Part-Time Para Educator/Teacher Aide Openings.

Please consider joining our school staff! We are looking for 2 para educators to work with Kindergarten students. Duties include working with children by assisting the teachers and students. Applicants must have experience in working with small children. Hours of work: 5 days a week from 7:45-1:00. If you are interested, send a resume along with 2-3 letters of recommendation to c.venvertloh@cospq.org.

Fr. Leo's column continued..

Our annual parish picnic is next Saturday, August 27. REMINDER, OUR MASS NEXT SATURDAY WILL BE AT 4:00 P.M. THERE WILL BE NO CONFESSIONS IN THE AFTERNOON NOR WILL THERE BE A 5:00 P.M. MASS. The picnic will begin right after this Mass. Please come down and join us for a fun-filled evening with plenty of food and drink. Of course, I am a little prejudiced, but I do think we have the best brats in town. But whatever you eat, I guarantee it will be tasty and filled with a lot of love. We will have music and games for all people along with a silent auction and a raffle. Please join us and find some very friendly workers.

I am asking for some temporary workers from our parish family. We have lost a maintenance man and have been unable to fill this position. I am hoping that perhaps someone from the parish might find some time to help us for a few hours each day after school. We would be happy to pay them for time spent. If interested, please give me a call at the Parish Office. I would appreciate any hours spent.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: A man entered a drug store and asked the pharmacist for a cure for the hiccups. The pharmacist immediately reached out and slapped the man across the face.

“What’d you do that for?” asked the man angrily.

“Well, you don’t have the hiccups anymore, do you?”

“No,” replied the man, “but my wife out in the car still does.”
