Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time

SEPTEMBER 25, 2022

Amos 6:1a,4-7; 1 Timothy 6:11-16;
Luke 16:19-31

Remember the old humorous statement: “The biggest problem in the Church today is apathy and indifference ... But who cares?” That may describe many of us. We are discouraged by the way things go in life, but we do nothing to change them.

Amos says, today, “Woe to the complacent in Zion!” That is a pretty weak translation. A better one would be: “The complacent are going to be damned to hell!” Not very nice words, but true! If we fail to notice needs and if we fail to try to fill those needs, we are complacent. We deserve eternal punishment.

The second reading tells us that if we are devoted to God, we must seek integrity; we must fight for faith; we must witness for Christ. This may be another way of saying that we can’t save our own soul without saving others. We please God by showing our concern for the people and for the things God has made.

The big sin of the rich man in the Gospel parable is that he didn’t notice poor Lazarus at his gate. He wasn’t an evil person; he was just caught up in his own little world so much that he didn’t notice the needs of others.

God offers us opportunities to serve him with our time, our talent, and our treasure. He doesn’t overpower us, and he doesn’t send us an angel or a vision. He expects us to notice. He expects us to see needs and to serve him by serving the needs of others.

Remember what the Lord says, “What you do ... or neglect to do ... to others, you do ... or neglect to do ... to me.”

Twenty-sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time, September 25, 2022

Dear Parishioners,

We gather this weekend on our last weekend in our month of September. I don't know about you, but this month, like August, seemed to drag along and I'm glad it is coming to an end. I find as we close this month out that our weather is cooling off, the days are getting shorter, and nature is beginning its annual change. With that, I welcome the month of October.

Remember the words of Jesus who said to His disciples, "Whatsoever you do to the least of your brothers and sisters, you do to me." These are words we always need to remember and make sure that they are lived. It is too easy to find as our brothers and sisters those who are of like mind; it is so easy to see Christ in people who are of the same social-economic class; it is so easy to see Christ in the people with whom we associate. But this is not what our Lord was reminding us as to who is our neighbor. We need to look around in our lives to find people whom we ignore; or people with whom we have very little contact. In fact, our gospel today challenges us to see Christ in the neighbor who is in need, especially the poor, downtrodden, even the immigrant. Our gospel is the story of the rich man and Lazarus. In this parable, the rich man's problem was that he never even noticed Lazarus who was suffering in his presence. The rich man was preoccupied with his own life with very little observation of the poor man, Lazarus, who was in need. Because of his blindness, the rich man missed the opportunity to see Christ in Lazarus and thus did not respond. His reward—a life away from the Christ whom he failed to see in Lazarus.

This Tuesday, September 27, we will once again continue a tradition in the Quincy community of bringing together all the Catholic schools of the area for a Mass at Quincy Notre Dame High School. This Mass will begin at 9:30 a.m. and our students will be bused to QND for this Mass. Parents and other visitors are encouraged to attend this annual celebration. Once Mass is completed, our students will return back to school as they continue their day of learning.

Once again, I am asking our parishioners who are Eucharistic Ministers to consider using their ministry in the distribution of Holy Communion to patients at Blessing Hospital. Before COVID, people were able to have the Eucharist each day as Eucharistic Ministers would provide this service. With COVID, these same volunteers were unable to provide this service and visits were limited. But now that COVID is no longer dominating everything we do, volunteers have been very reluctant to return to this ministry. So if you can help us out, please contact me or Rebecca Knuffman at the Parish Office. Perhaps we might imagine the sick as the Lazarus in our lives and respond accordingly by bringing them the Eucharist.

We are also looking for volunteers to help in our new ministry, namely the Visitation Ministry. These are parishioners who take time out of their schedules to call or visit parishioners who are confined to their homes or in an assisted living facility. This ministry is one that shows parishioners that they are not forgotten, that they are remembered, and that they are important to us. If interested, please call Rebecca Knuffman, 217-222-3155.

Marriage Course — 5:30 p.m., Cafeteria

FOUND — 6:30 p.m., Martha Jane Room

Fr. Leo's column continued...

Once again, our parish is offering what is called the "Marriage Course." This course is designed to strengthen marriage relationships. It will begin this Sunday, September 25, in the school cafeteria from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. It will include childcare if needed. This particular course will last seven sessions and will end on November 13.

Also, this next Friday, September 30, the St. Peter's Men's group will continue to meet in the Grade School gym and will present another series by Fr. Dave Pivonka. This series is called Metanoia. If interested, these men meet each Friday morning with doors open at 6:00 a.m. and the program from 6:30-7:30 a.m. You are invited to join them for this series and fellowship.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE: An inexperienced preacher was told to hold a graveside burial service at a pauper's cemetery for an indigent man with no family or friends. Not knowing where the cemetery was, he made several wrong turns and got lost. When he eventually arrived an hour late, the hearse was nowhere in sight, the backhoe was next to the open hole, and the workmen were sitting under a tree eating lunch.

The diligent young pastor went to the open grave and found the vault lid already in place. Feeling that he should conduct the service despite his tardiness, he preached an impassioned and lengthy service, sending the deceased to the great beyond in style.

As he returned to his car, he overheard one of the workers say to the other, "I've been putting in septic tanks for 20 years, and I ain't never seen anything like that."

We are excited to announce that Liturgy of the Word is back! LOW is a worship experience for Kindergarten - 3rd Graders to enable children to participate in the liturgy in ways that are understandable to them. Children are called together before the first reading and return to the main assembly during the collection. A lesson leader and assistant share the readings, guide the kids through an activity, and pray for their petitions together.

Are you interested in joining this ministry as a lesson leader and/or assistant? Go to <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/409044aa9ae22a7fb6-liturgy> to access the SignUpGenius to sign up to lead a lesson. Any questions, please contact Kristen Walker, 708-227-5721.

Survey Says: Time's Almost Up

As we have mentioned over the past weeks, our parish is in the process of conducting a parish-wide survey, which we believe will provide a clearer picture of where you, the parishioners, see the current state of our parish and to determine how you want our parish family to develop over the next few years. Thank you to all those who have completed their surveys. If you have not returned your print survey or completed it online, time is running out. Please complete it this week. Thank you for your time, participation, and feedback.

St. Peter Men's Group

We are going to continue on with a series by Father Dave Pivonka who hosted our last series. The new series is called Metanoia (a spirit of conversion). We are planning on meeting on Friday mornings starting September 30 in the gym as we have in the past. Doors open at 6:00 a.m. and the program begins at 6:30 a.m., finishing by 7:30 a.m. This is a ten-part series which we are dividing into 5 in the fall and 5 in the spring. We are skipping October 7, and meeting on the next four consecutive Fridays. We are planning tentatively on ending the fall session on Friday, November 4.
