A Message from Fr. Tom Donovan:

Since 2001, the Second Sunday, or 'octave' day, of Easter has been observed as "Divine Mercy Sunday". On this day, we reflect on the glory of God's mercy in the full light of the resurrection. God's mercy is not something we earn by way of our confessions or our Lenten disciplines or anything else taking place in us, but rather it comes when we are least deserving, least able to help ourselves, when we are otherwise lost to the darkness of our fallen nature. Divine Mercy is simply there for our asking, which demands a spiritual posture of extraordinary faith and trust in our Risen Lord— again, Mercy is neither earned nor owed to us for our works, but rather comes to us in complete humility, sincere contrition, and complete trust in the Risen Christ. From our experience of God's Mercy, we are called to share mercy with others.

The Divine Mercy visionary was St. Faustina Kowalska (1905-1938), who was a simple, uneducated, Polish nun, living at about the same time and not that far from the home of a young Karol Wojtya, who would later be St. Pope John Paul II. St. Faustina, at the command of her spiritual director, Fr. Michał Sopoćko (1888-1975, who himself is being examined as a potential candidate for sainthood) wrote over 600 pages in her spiritual diary, recounting her journey in prayer and the responses that she received, teaching her and the world about the glory of Divine Mercy. Embedded in these writings are the devotional tools that many recognize: the Divine Mercy Chaplet, the image of Christ with streams of light pouring out of his Sacred Heart, the call to devote the Second Sunday of Easter as a uniquely-privileged day for sacramental Confession and other devout works of faith and mercy. The diary itself, widely available in English translation, is a rewarding read in and of itself, and is presently under consideration in a petition to name Faustina a "doctor of the Church".

This afternoon, we will celebrate devotions to the Divine Mercy with adoration, recitation of the divine mercy chaplet, and the availability of sacramental confessions. This event will take place at St. Anthony Church starting at 2:00 p.m. on Sunday, April 16.

A word about the Precious Blood... having endured the COVID-19 crisis and a tough cold-and-flu season, it is seeming appropriate to return to offering the cup containing the Precious Blood of Christ at Masses. As we return to this practice, a couple of reminders seem important to offer: 1) Each and every time I hear that we are receiving "the wine", this terminology needs to be corrected. If this were just wine, then I need to quit and get an honest job. This is not wine! It is the Precious Blood of Christ... the sacramental presence of Jesus, the second person of the Divine Trinity. I suppose we can legitimately say that it is 'under the appearances of wine', but to think or speak of it as common wine betrays a failure in sacramental vision or faith!

My job is to correct this language anytime I hear it, and to ask others to do the same! 2) If recent years have taught us anything, it would be to be cautious of sickness and illness in public spaces. Nobody (except the priest who must 'complete the sacrifice') is obligated to receive the Precious Blood. Why do we offer it then? It is offered because it is a better sign of the fullness of Christ's sacramental presence. Nonetheless, the entire Christ is present in both species. As we note this, I urge those who are sick, immunocompromised, or perhaps even 'just not feeling well' to consider it an act of charity to refrain from drinking from the common cup. While it is a pious thought that the Precious Blood could not be a vector for disease transmission, this ignores the physical reality which Jesus fully humbles himself to participate in, that the physical properties of wine still remain, and thus the disease-carrying properties common to sharing a common cup are still present. It is not a lack of faith that allows diseases to potentially be passed along, but rather a pious, perhaps even superstitious, but wrong understanding of sacramental theology. More next week!

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

Holy Week Stations of the Cross

During Holy Week, our 7th grade students provided a re-enactment of the Stations of the Cross from Mary's perspective for all of our Kindergarten through 8th grade students. The students were reminded of God's awesome gifts of love and mercy. When we returned to school we celebrated that Jesus Christ has risen. Our students celebrated the good news of the Resurrection with Jesus Christ's victory over sin and death for us all. Jesus has filled our hearts, lives, and school with joy as we begin this great season of Easter. Everyone at school gave cards to their Lenten Prayer Buddy to share God's love with them. Alleluia!

2023 Annual School Fund Drive Update
