Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

JANUARY 14, 2024

1 Samuel 3:3b-10,19;

1 Corinthians 6:13c-15a,17-20; John 1:35-42

Every one of us has a call from God. It is not only a call “in general” to be holy. It is a specific and concrete call to serve the Lord in a special way. From all eternity, God called each of us to serve him in a way which is unique; no other person who will ever live can serve the Lord in precisely the same way as we do!

The problem is that we do not hear the voice of the Lord, as Samuel did. Jesus does not talk to us in the same way that he spoke to Peter and Andrew. We must pray, and ask the Lord to make known to us how he wants us to serve him.

The first reading is the call of Samuel. Samuel was a “child of promise.” His parents were childless in their old age. They promised that, if they had a child, they would dedicate him to the Lord. Samuel was reared in the temple. He did not recognize God’s call at first; but finally, he said “Speak, Lord, for your servant is listening.”

Our bodies are members of the very Body of Christ; we are temples of the Holy Spirit. The motive for Christian purity and modesty is that we belong to Christ. We should not want to involve Christ in impurity. Our call from God includes a call to purity.

The Gospel is John’s story of the call of Peter and Andrew. (This is quite different from the call which Mark describes in next Sunday’s Gospel.) Peter and Andrew were disciples of John the Baptist. John points out Jesus as the Lamb; Andrew spent the day with Jesus, and then brought Peter to Jesus.

Let us seek to know our call from God. Let us pray especially that many of our young people will recognize that God is calling them to the priesthood and to the Religious life.

2ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

We returned to ordinary time today, although some still keep Christmas going until February 2, the readings from 1st Samuel and John are both about evangelization, intercession, and response to the Lord. In the first book of Samuel, Samuel hears the Lord calling but doesn't know it's God speaking to him. Samuel needs Eli to teach him who the Lord is and how to respond to Him. He needs him to evangelize him, intercede for him and teach him how to answer God...here I am Lord. In the Gospel of John today John and Andrew hear John the Baptist announce who Jesus is and in other instances tells them to follow Him. John and Andrew needed John the Baptist to evangelize them, intercede for them and to teach them the response to the Lord. John's gospel then tells us that Andrew then goes and does the same for his brother. Andrew finds Simon and evangelizes, intercedes and teaches him to respond to the Lord's call. If we didn't have John the Baptist evangelize Andrew and we didn't have Andrew learn from John the Baptist and go evangelize Simon, we wouldn't have Peter the first pope. How sad it would be if Andrew was like many of us and didn't evangelize, didn't teach Simon to respond? We also look at the encounter with Jesus with Andrew and John after John the Baptist pointed them to Jesus. Jesus asks them where they are/what are they looking for. They answer about seeing where he is staying, which means they want to be his disciples. Jesus answers simply come and see. And Andrew does the same then with Simon. Brothers and sisters we don't have to have all the answers to evangelize. We don't have to know every theological stance and be able to defend it to evangelize. All we need to do is tell people who it is we encounter, the Lord Jesus, intercede for them and tell them to come and see. This is how we evangelize, witness, invite, and bring them to the encounter with the living God. The Lord does all the work if we just bring people to Him. Love people, tell them of what Jesus did for you, invite them to come and see Him, and teach them how you respond to the Lord so they can learn to do the same. This is evangelization and it takes every last one of us, yes you too, to do this work. Do not be afraid. Be joyful and invite and welcome! This is evangelization! Now heed Jesus' call to you to evangelize those you encounter. Hear his call to you and respond here I am Lord.
