Fourth Sunday of Easter

APRIL 21 2024

Acts 4:8-12; 1 John 3:1-2;

John 10:11-18

Today is often called “Good Shepherd Sunday.” In each of the three cycles of Scripture readings, we find the theme of sheep or shepherd or sheepfold. The shepherd in the Holy Land was expected to be devoted entirely to the sheep under his care. If he allowed a sheep or a lamb to be lost or to be mangled by a wild animal, he had to prove that he had struggled against the animal and that he had expended great effort in search of the stray.

Sheep were usually not raised for meat, although the sacrifices of the Temple were of sheep – probably because sheep were considered so valuable. The sheep were raised mostly for milk and for wool. The shepherd got to know his sheep quite well, and they knew him. Just as our pet dogs respond only to their master’s voice, so also the sheep would respond only to the shepherd’s voice (a whistle or a yodel). His sheep would follow him alone.

The image of a shepherd came to be used for the kings of Israel; it also came to be used for the priests and other leaders of the people. But the Lord was really the only true or Good Shepherd. When Jesus calls himself the Good Shepherd, he is thereby claiming equality with God the Father. Jesus, as Good Shepherd, is so devoted to his sheep that he lays down his life for us, his sheep.

Our first reading is Peter’s explanation of the cure of a lame man. Lameness was a sign of sin; a lame person could not “walk” the ways of God! Peter explains that the lame man has been healed by the risen Lord Jesus Christ. But all must be healed of their spiritual lameness – their sins – through the same Jesus Christ.

The second reading tells us that we are God’s children now; we share his life; this life will be completed in our own resurrection when we shall be like the glorified and risen Christ. Meanwhile, we must live his life of love while on earth.

In the Gospel, Jesus proclaims himself as the “good” or “authentic” shepherd. He not only feeds, shelters, protects, and searches out his sheep; he even gives his life for his sheep.

4TH SUNDAY OF EASTER

This weekend is good shepherd Sunday. It's Good Shepard Sunday. We often share our vocation stories and talk about how God is drawing near, and more to be good shepherds, and pray for them to respond. To lay down one's life for one's sheep is what God calls us into. Peter is the good shepherd today not only guiding the sheep, but carrying them and placing them on the foundation of the cornerstone! May we pray for the same! Healing and an encounter with living Christ. Happy Easter!

This weekend we get to hear from some speakers about our capital campaign. I hope you give them your attention and I also hope you give us your support. We will have a couple of listening sessions coming up. Please take the opportunity to come to one of them and hear what we're up to and give you the chance to ask questions and give constructive feedback.

This last week we took the eighth grade to the March for Life with some of our youth group members as well. There was also quite a few other partners around. This was such a great and positive event. I hope in the future more from our parish will attend. We then went on to continue for a class trip to Lake William and Christian Center in Carlinville, Illinois. This is such a fun facility with so many opportunities and we had a great time. Thank you to the students for being so good. Thank you to all those who made it possible for the kids to have this great experience.

Saturday, April 20, our third graders, received their confirmation and first communion at the Cathedral by Bishop Thomas John Paprocki. What an exciting event! We will have an opportunity for them to receive a solemn communion at the parish very soon. Please congratulate our young people on their full initiation of the Catholic Church! We are so proud of them.

I'm going to take a couple of days this week to relax and to re-energize and visit the seminary. I need a short break. I hope you understand if I am even more behind on getting back to people. Thanks for your patience.

Quincy Catholic Schools Mega Raffle is back!

Tickets are on sale now. Tickets must be turned in by May 3 to be eligible for the $25,000 Early Bird Drawing on May 17. Since it began, this raffle has resulted in over $2 million being invested in our schools, students, families and foundations. This is the largest fundraiser to support tuition assistance, especially at the elementary school level. Our school has a goal to sell 725 tickets. So far, we have sold 120, which is more than any of the elementary schools! Tickets are available after Masses for $100 in the gathering space.

Ladies of St. Francis News:

- Thank you to all of the ladies who attended our
- April 16 dinner meeting. Diane Andrew gave an
- interesting presentation on "The Twelve Little
- Angels" of the St. Francis fire. A new slate of
- officers also was selected and they will take over
- in September. The new officers are: President
- Helen Zimmerman; Vice President Michelle Obert;
- Secretary Angela Gutting and Treasurer
- Jane Gregory. The new officers will be inducted
- at the next dinner meeting on May 21.
- Remember ladies...Plant the seeds of FAITH!

St. Anthony Ladies Society is holding a Roast Beef Dinner on Sunday, April 28 from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. in their parish hall, 2223 St. Anthony Rd., Quincy. "Oz" Help Wanted!

Adult help will be needed to produce our school play "Oz," which takes place the first weekend in May. If you can help with any of the following tasks now, it would be greatly appreciated: Costumes, sewing, cleaning, organization, props, set building, cast party, special effects, publicity, errands, etc.

You may email Jane Ann Petty at jpetty@stfrancissolanus.com. Include your first and last name, phone number and what you can contribute. Adults may receive school service hours for helping with "Oz." Thank you!

Fifth grader Emily O'Leary took in the solar eclipse along with her St. Francis classmates on April 8.

Religious Artwork in Classrooms: One of our goals is increasing the presence of our Catholic faith in our school. One current goal is placing religious artwork in every classroom of our school building. We are seeking 8x10 or 11X16 pictures of religious art in different styles of art that are ready to hang. No glass please for safety reasons. The pictures may be new or gently used. We have some examples of artwork on our Amazon.com wish list, but it is not required to be purchased from there. Mrs. Radel hopes to accomplish this goal by the end of next school year.
