Fourth Sunday of Easter - April 21, 2024

A Message from Fr. Tom Donovan:

✠ Alleluia ✠ Alleluia ✠ Alleluia ✠

We often hear the word “congregation” when referring to a group of people gathered in worship. The root “gregare” comes from the Latin, meaning, “to gather together”, and is further explained by the noun form, “grex” which literally means “flock” as in a “flock of sheep”. So, when a pastor speaks of his ‘congregation’, hidden in that word is the very idea of the people of God being a “flock” gathered together like sheep. When we call a person “gregarious”, we see him or her as a person who likes to be around other people. Such a person would be an “aggregator” and not a “segregator” due to his or her “egregious” patterns of behavior.

If is the Lord who gathers, while the evil one scatters. When we look inside our Churches as “congregations”, we recognize that the relationships that comprise our communion with each other are often difficult and challenging, but essential to who we are as Christians. It is neither healthy to separate oneself from the congregation nor to take the separation of another member lightly, for the work of scattering and separating belongs to the evil one. Revelation (12:10) foretells that the final victory of God will be sealed when Satan, “the accuser of the brothers” is cast out.

When we consider Satan as the “accuser”, we come to a greater understanding of how rash judgment, detraction, gossip, and other sins of the tongue can undermine the unity of the Church. Further, we can get a glimpse of how the devil uses the shame of accusation to discourage individuals who are struggling with sin from finding the healing they need by staying in the flock and close to the shepherd. Nobody likes evil things said of them; nobody likes to have their faults exposed for the whole world to see and pass judgement. When sheep get lost and lose the familiar call of their shepherd, they will hide themselves, even to the point of near-starvation. Do you know anyone who was once a member of the Church, who received First Communion perhaps with you many years ago, who has been in hiding... perhaps for years starving themselves from the sacraments? How can you help them find their way back? Accusation and judgement? Unlikely. Helping them heal from their (moral, relationship, estrangement) wounds? That would be the way of the Good Shepherd.

The Church as the Flock of Christ is meant to be a place of safety in the hostile world. The Church welcomes strangers and reconciles sinners. The Church gathers talents and gifts to share with those in need. The Church teaches and blesses, that all might find their rightful place in the flock. When we recognize that those things that build up and bring life are the things of God, and conversely those that tear us down are the things of the devil, it calls us to account as individuals and as members of the Church: do my words and deeds build up or bring down the flock or am I in league with those who would disperse the flock and besiege the Shepherd?

I have had a number of inquiries in recent weeks about the possibility of starting an OCIA/RCIA cohort after Easter... How about it? Do you know someone who would like to join the Church and become Catholic? We will have an organizational meeting on Monday, May 13 at 7:00 p.m. in the Quilt Room at St. Anthony’s. All are welcome... candidates, sponsors, even those who would just like to take a refresher course on the faith. For more information, please call the parish office: 222-5996.

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

First-Graders Lead Us In Prayer

During the month of April, the first-grade class, along with their teacher, Mrs. Tera Smith, led Morning Assembly each day. Every morning we begin with prayer by listening to the Holy Scripture reading for the day and a Living Faith reflection for children and youth. During the Scripture reading our first-grade leaders are the role models for prayer. The class also taught our school about one of the Catholic Sacraments of Vocation – Matrimony. We learned that through the Sacrament of Matrimony, Christians are called to dedicate their lives both in communion with God and by loving service to others. The man and the woman join their hands and their lives with God, giving their consent, and exchanging vows and rings. In addition, the first-grade class helped us learn about the Fruit of the Holy Spirit – Love from God.
