Have You Ever Noticed?

I realize that it isn't possible for many people to come to daily Mass; but if they did - and for those of you who do - eventually something wouldn't - and doesn't - escape notice. The more you know about the saints, the more you realize how very much their lives were the same, almost to the point of a "near" identity. And yet, how different each saint is, because the human person, in his/her circumstances, is unrepeatable and unique.

Do you see that? There's a unity in the underlying substance of sainthood; but there's a distinction of persons. Welcome to how we mirror the Holy Trinity, actually en flesh the Triune God as His image in our lives. Three persons, One God. Unity of substance; distinction of persons. It's true! I really am in His image and likeness! Now that's something to celebrate! Fr. T.

Mass Schedule for June 1 and June 2. Please remember, one and all, that God's Portion has been "center stage" in the support of the SPPS for almost a generation, now. And as we have done in the past, there is a change in the Mass schedule. 4 p.m. ICC and 5:30 SMH Masses remain on the schedule for June 1. But on June 2, there will be no Masses at SHW and SHDC. The only Sunday Mass will be in SPPN - and that Mass is at 8:30 a.m. It isn't a sudden thing, by any means: our school is not only important to our faith, our community, and our county: it's vital to the efforts of education in our nation. Your support will be most appreciated! We hope you come for some part of the day - all of it, if you can!

Pastor's Reaction to Growing Disciples Decisions.

I thought about talking to you about this at the end of all the Masses this weekend; and by the time you read this, perhaps I had decided to, in some abbreviated way. But upon further consideration, I decided to reach out to each of you this way.

My first thoughts go out to our Church present in the lives of the faithful at Sacred Heart Church, Dallas City, and St. Mary Church, Hamilton. Your efforts to show our underlying unity, amid the distinction of our churches with a view toward their importance in our civic communities, were exemplary. I feel emptiness and shock in the face of the decision that has affected our people at Sacred Heart, Dallas City, and St. Mary, Hamilton. I made every effort to state our case - for all of our churches as one Church - and adhered faithfully to the Growing Disciples vision, that of not getting ahead of the process of decision making. This was the reason for my continuing expression and prayer of encouragement.

For me, personally, the change is profound, because, with the decision, the premise of my time here has now changed. We are no longer trying to position ourselves to address and engage the presence of the LDS faith with our own, as the underlying reason for our evangelical purpose. Now, the Bishop directs us to consider the unique future demands on the priesthood: rapid advances in artificial intelligence and technology; more frequent absences for continuing education; more intensive cooperation with the laity; more consultation between and among Bishop and priests, and priests among themselves; an evangelical priesthood, moving out from behind the rectory desk and into the world of people who have lost sight of the Gospel, and its activation in the sacraments. The current and future premise is that priests will not be able to sustain parishes or their own vocation unless there's reconfiguration of parishes. We will never know the multiple factors that go into these decisions, partly because they're too intricately bound, and partly because decisions based upon them can be argued forever.

In the meantime, our next steps include careful attention to God's People and ours, at SHDC and SMH, and how this passage affects them, and all of us. Then comes the further direction from the diocese, along with our own input into how things develop from here. For me, personally, I'm coming to realize that my own life is now a matter of preparing our churches for "the next guy" in the years ahead, whoever he may be. No hints, predictions, or premonitions! I'm here to stay, for "better or for worse," as they say. But reality shows all of us that the years of both Growing Disciples implementation and my own in active priesthood are few. So, let's see through this together, OK? Fr. Tony
