Acts 10:25-26,34-35,44-48; 1 John 4:7-10;
John 15:9-17

All the great religions of the world have some form of the Golden Rule (“Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.”) But the moral code of Christianity goes infinitely beyond this.

Jesus commands us to treat others as he treats us! In today’s Gospel he says, “Love one another as I have loved you!” We should not ask whether others deserve our forgiveness or understanding or mercy; we must simply offer them the love which Christ offers us. Jesus calls us his friends, not his servants; if we are his friends, then we must be friends of all who belong to him.

The second reading expands on this theme: “Love one another, because love is of God ... God first loved us and sent his Son as an offering for our sins.” Love means that we place another’s needs above our own. It means that we sacrifice unselfishly. Love is a desire to do good to, to honor and respect, to build up another person.

The Christian motive for this is “because God has first loved us... because Christ gave his life for us.” Christian love enables us to overcome our natural inclinations and prejudices.

The first reading describes the conversion of the first Gentiles (non-Jews); this was very hard for the apostles (steeped in Jewish tradition) to accept. But Peter proclaims that God shows no partiality – and we can’t either!

Human nature cannot live up to the high moral calling of Christians; we can only love as Christ loves with the help of his grace. Let us daily work to become more like Jesus.

6TH SUNDAY OF EASTER

No Greater Love.

Before entering Seminary, I had to return to Illinois.

Admittedly, most people who move away from Illinois don't realize the roads out are almost all two-way roads. I was living in Kansas, working in Missouri but really my work territory was bounded by our nation's coastlines.

As a Catholic and Kansas resident, I quickly became deeply interested in the life and witness of a man I never met.

He was born and raised near Pilsen, Kansas. On first glance, there is more to Marblehead, Illinois than Pilsen.

The most prominent building in Pilsen is the church, St. John Nepomucene Catholic Church, a brick church erected by Czech immigrants in the heart of the Kansas plains. This man spoke Czech and, as a boy, would walk a few miles into town to serve Mass.

Eventually he discerned that God desired him to be a priest and the young man followed the call. First, he went to Conception Seminary in northwestern Missouri and then on to Kenrick Seminary in St. Louis for his theology studies. He returned to Kansas where the then-Bishop of Wichita ordained him in 1940 and, in an unusual assignment, assigned him back to his home parish in Pilsen because there was a need for a priest who spoke Czech to minister there. Not far from Pilsen is an old army air base at Herrington, Kansas. He became an auxiliary chaplain to assist at the base there while still at Pilsen.

In 1944, he joined the US Army Chaplain Corps and became a chaplain in the Pacific Theatre of WWII. After serving in Burma (modern Myanmar) and India in WWII, he returned to Kansas.

A few years later, he resumed his army chaplaincy in the Korean Conflict. The following is from the US Army with his name taken out (for dramatic effect to keep you reading): "In 1950 (he) served as a chaplain with the 1st Cavalry Division in Japan and Korea before he was taken prisoner on November 2, 1950, during the Battle of Unsan. During the fight, which started on November 1, 1950, (he) moved repeatedly under enemy direct fire to rescue wounded from a no-man's land outside the battalion's perimeter. He also negotiated with the enemy for the safety of wounded Americans, physically intervened to stop an execution, and rejected multiple opportunities for escape and instead volunteered to stay and care for wounded. On August 2, 1950 (he) was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in action near Kumchon, where he rescued a wounded soldier despite intense enemy fire.

On November 1, 1950, Communist forces surround (the) Chaplain's outfit near Unsan. (He) was captured by the North Korean army and its Chinese allies. (He) escaped when his captors were shot by allied Soldiers. But on November 2, 1950 (he) was captured a second time when he volunteered to stay behind with the wounded.

Marched to POW camp, he continued to conduct ministry inside the POW camps.

(He) spent the next seven months in the Sambukol and Pyoktong prison camps, in what is now (North Korea).

With disregard for his own safety and comfort, (he) tended to the sick and wounded, scoured for food, built fires against guards' commands, and fashioned iron sheet vessels to launder the clothing of the wounded and purify drinking water. He also led prayers and spiritual services for the POWs, at the risk of punishment.

For his outspoken resistance, (he) was feared by the guards and revered by his fellow POWs. Upon return, Pyoktong prison survivors told stories of (his) courage, compassion, and spirit. They credited him with saving their lives, and hundreds more, before eventually succumbing to his own wounds and prison maltreatment. (He) died in Pyoktong on May 23, 1951."

He could do all this because he had a relationship with Jesus Christ where Christ was welcomed into his heart to be his other self.

Today, he is given a special title, "Servant of God," and there is a very active cause for his canonization. Today we hear in the readings that there can be no greater love than to lay down one's life for a friend. Does Jesus' love live in you? What does it look like to lay down your life daily?

Ask for Servant of God Emil Kapaun to show you the source of love he was in communion with.

I have a mini-"graduation" this coming Saturday, May 11, marking the completion of Pre-Theology and my Philosophy studies. (I still have four years of theology ahead). Please pray for me. Pray for my brother seminarians. Also, pray that the young men and women in our parish respond to God's will for their lives as a priest or religious.

In Christ,

Thomas Marten, Seminarian

St. Francis Capital Campaign Update

It is never too late to make your pledge!

Our most recent report shows that we have had $1,343,692.63 in gifts and pledges so far in our campaign. Our sincerest gratitude to those who have already made their sacrificial gift to this phase of our parish building plan. Father is deeply touched by your generosity.

Changes in Online Giving

St. Francis Solanus is in the beginning stages of a diocese-wide change in software. With this update we will transition from Our Sunday Visitor (OSV) as an online giving option to Parish Staq/Push Pay. As of this June 15 St. Francis will no longer use OSV. If you have an account with OSV, please log in to your account to stop this process and begin using Push Pay before June 15. Both websites are available through our giving page at stfrancissolanus.com. Please call the parish office or email church@stfrancissolanus.com with questions. Thank you for your continued support of St. Francis!

Fr. A is celebrating 10 years as a priest!

Join us to celebrate the 10th anniversary of Father Arisman's ordination on Sunday, May 19. Father A will celebrate Mass at 11 a.m., followed by a carry-in picnic lunch on the rectory lawn. (School will be the rain location).

For the picnic: The parish will provide meat, drinks and dessert. We kindly ask that each family contribute a side dish based on the initial of your last name:

A-H: Potato or rice dish

I-P: Vegetable dish

Q-Z: Salads.

Please bring lawn chairs or blankets for seating as table space is limited. R.S.V.P. to the parish office by May 10 at 222-2898. For more information visit stfrancissolanus.com/celebration.

May is the Month of Mary
To honor the Mother of God, the Rosary will be recited before all weekend masses at St. Francis during the month of May. Please bring your rosary and pray along with the leader.

Kramer Soderberg, men's head basketball coach at Millikin University, is a devout Catholic and young family man known for motivating individuals of all ages to grow in their faith and belief in God. He is the author of the book Fill Your Cup for Christ: A Spiritual Journey Sown and Grown Through Sports. The book has had a great impact in the faith life of all who read it. All male members of St. Francis are members of the Holy Name Society and should consider coming to hear Coach Kramer speak. We hope to see you there!

Did you know our Holy Name has been in existence at St. Francis since 1863? We have a very active ministry within our parish. This money has gone to the school, parish, teachers and many others. The best part is we have fun doing this as well as building community together.

Right now we are in need of a new President, Vice President, and Treasurer. Call Martin Mak at 217-224-8668 or email him (see address above) for more information.
