Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

JULY 28, 2024

2 Kings 4:42-44; Ephesians 4:1-6;
John 6:1-15

This liturgical year (“B” in our lectionary) is called “the Year of Mark.” Most of our Sunday Gospels are taken from the Gospel according to Mark. (Next year, they will be taken from Luke; the following year they will be taken from Matthew.) But today, and for the next four Sundays, we interrupt the sequence of Mark.

Our Gospels for these Sundays are taken from the Sixth Chapter of John. Today’s Gospel is the “sign” of the loaves and fishes. For the next four Sundays, we shall have portions of Jesus’ sermon on the “Bread of Life.”

The first reading is usually selected to fit the theme of the Gospel. Today, therefore, our reading is an Old Testament miracle of multiplication of loaves. Elisha the prophet feeds a hundred men from a few barley loaves.

Our second reading rarely fits the theme of the other two Scripture readings. It is called the “continuous reading,” since we begin one New Testament book and continue through it until the end, regardless of the theme of the Gospel. Even though today’s second reading doesn’t “fit,” it is especially beautiful: There must be unity in the Church, since there is one Lord, one faith, one baptism, and one God and Father of us all. All of us must work for unity by seeking reconciliation instead of rage, love instead of lambasting.

No one knows exactly what happened in the “sign” of the loaves and fishes. John does not say that Jesus created new loaves or multiplied the substance of the old ones. We usually assume this, however. Obviously what he did was a “sign.”

Perhaps the sign was a miracle of creation. Or perhaps it was a miracle of getting people to share. Considering the selfishness of most of us, getting people to share might be just as great a miracle for the Lord as the creation of new substance! The “sign” was intended to fulfill the Jewish expectation for a new miracle of manna when the Messiah came.

Some of the world hungers for bread for the body; Christians must seek to feed them. All of the world hungers for the bread of the spirit; we shall have gnawing in our lives until we are satisfied with the bread of Christ’s truth; Christians must feed the world by giving the bread of truth to others. And all of us need the nourishment of the Eucharist, the new manna of salvation, the Bread which will spring up to eternal life.

17TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

What perfect timing....We finished the 10th National Eucharistic Congress last week, and now we pause our readings from Mark's Gospel to begin the Bread of Life Discourse from John's Gospel. This is one of the most important passages in scripture. Our Protestant brothers and sisters often skip over it or are told it's non consequential. Jesus gives us a discourse on the Eucharist. He most specifically tells us WHO the Eucharist is. He gives us a long exhortation on Him being the bread of life. Every time they question Him or challenge Him about this, He doesn't back down or say it's just a symbol. Instead Jesus continues over and over in this discourse to step up His bluntness. May we take these next few weeks to ponder the Eucharist.

In Indianapolis last week over 52,000 people gathered for the 10th National Eucharistic Congress, which I attended. I must say...WOW!! It was absolutely remarkable. This is the first National Eucharistic Congress we have had in the USA since 1941. That is 83 years! We hosted the International Eucharistic Congress back in the 70s but even that has been forever ago. How powerful an event this was. I can only explain it as what I imagine Heaven to be. All these same people here to worship the Lord Jesus Christ and how joy filled and excited everyone was. Truly a powerful event.

The most powerful part was the Eucharistic Procession in downtown Indianapolis. The crowds lined the streets in numbers that blow your mind. People were hanging out of parking garages and buildings to see the procession and cheer. I've never felt so loved as a priest, as people cheered and thanked you for your priesthood the entire procession. My friend and I walked together and were insanely moved by the outpouring of love. Wow. We arrived at the Indiana War Memorial Monument to Steve Angrisano singing the Chaplet of Divine Mercy. We had adoration and benediction in the park there packed with the multitudes of people. So many people, so many seminarians, sooo many consecrated religious sisters and brothers, so many deacons, sooo many priests, so many bishops, and a few cardinals all gathered to worship Jesus Christ in the Eucharist. Benediction in that setting was a powerful experience. I look forward to sharing more as I unpack this event in my heart and mind.

Last weekend we had Fr. Burusu, our missionary priest, visiting, assigned to us by the missions office of the diocese. Thank you for supporting the missionary work in Rwanda. To clarify that is not our new priest. He has not arrived yet. Rwanda's primary language is French or Swahili. Fr. Kenneth is from Nigeria, which English is the primary language. I have no updates yet on his arrival. Keep praying.

Lastly I need to let you all know of a new policy for the use of the parish center. As of July 1 we will only be using the parish center for parish events. We will no longer host events for outside groups, except blood drives as I still see that as a parish mission. If something was already scheduled we will honor our agreement with them, but as of July 1 we will no longer host personal events. There are a multitude of reasons. First and foremost, we don't have the staff, nor can we afford them, to be able to set up for and clean up after those events. Second, the diocese has had a policy in place for some time on usage of halls and we haven't been following it. It puts us in grave legal jeopardy and without going into a very long explanation of that, we do not need to set ourselves up to be sued. Third, the hall, in all of the info put out for its building almost 10 years ago, said it was being built only for parish events. I wish we could host everything but we cannot. Parish events do include receptions after masses, other sacraments, or funerals. Cursillo and TEC are parish events. Showers are not included but a baptism reception would be allowed. Birthday parties are out but funeral luncheons are in. I hope this makes sense. I am very sorry for some hurt feelings, but it is not legally possible anymore. We need to protect our parish from possible large sum settlements. And it is also not financially possible as I would need to hire another full time person to work nights and weekends to set up and clean up. Please be understanding. I wish we could.

A thank you from Fr. Scott:

Thank you to everyone for the birthday wishes. My first birthday as a priest began with the celebration of Mass at 6:30 a.m. on the Feast of St. Mary Magdalene. Your cards and good wishes continued throughout the entire day – Thank you! A special thank you to everyone who contributes so much of their time, talent, and treasure to the parish. Today someone has brought produce from their garden to share with us. Every day people are volunteering to visit the sick and homebound, feed the hungry, water the plants, keep the grounds looking nice, and coming to spend time in the presence of the Eucharist in the Tabernacle. There are groups that discuss the scriptures, pray the rosary, and even a group that prays for the priests each day. A shout out also to the quilters who informed me that they are able to solve many world problems while quilting. Many partake in more than one ministry and they find joy in what they do. Your joy has become my joy and in Christ our joy is made complete. May God Bless you and your families now and always.
