Supposedly, the 16th century Reformation of the Christian Church hinged on studies of the passage we hear today from the Epistle of James. “What good is it, my brothers, to profess faith without practicing it? Such faith has no power to save!” (James 2:14) In the dark days leading up to the fracture of the Catholic Church in the West, I think that any objective witness could affirm that the Church had lost her way, preaching the faith but straying far from living it. The Catholic-Protestant polemics of the centuries that followed tended to deteriorate into name-calling; the Catholic Church was characterized as seeing salvation exclusively through good works... if a person were just good enough, they might ‘earn’ the reward of eternal life. On the other hand, Protestants were characterized as seeing salvation through ‘imputed grace’... a grace that is simply applied to the ‘credit’ of the receiver without necessarily requiring one to live a life of conversion, to include sacrifice and good works. Of course, both extremes are incorrect and do not accurately reflect either the teachings of either the Catholic Church or Reformation Protestantism.

There is an authentic ‘faith-and-works’ reality which must be lived. James argues as much when he concludes, “you must perceive that a person is justified by his [faith-filled (c.f. James 2:18)] works, and not by faith alone” (James 2:24). We are saved by faith that is totally free for the asking, but a faith that also must be put into action by a life of conversion.

Today’s Gospel deepens our consideration of the faith-works dynamic. Peter is asked “who do you say that I am?” Peter declares “you are the Messiah!” (Mark 8: 29) In the other Gospels, Jesus affirms this insight as a sign of Peter’s faith. But then Jesus goes on to teach Peter and the disciples that the mystery does not and cannot stop there. It is not enough to simply know the ‘secret’ that Jesus is the Messiah, but now each of his followers is commanded to ‘deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me’. (Mark 8: 34) You recognize and proclaim me as Lord. Good. Now go do something about it that makes a difference!

We had a spirited discussion about the “working plan” for our Quincy Catholic Schools this week. We are continuing to make efforts to cooperate with a centralized system of administration, curriculum, and budget, and as part of that plan, the bishop has mandated that we are come up with a ‘facilities plan’, that is, a plan on how we are going to align our facilities in this new organization to support the mission of forming new generations of disciples to our Lord Jesus Christ now and in the future. As part of this plan, we are proposing to set up a middle-school structure, allowing us to localize our resources in one building, which at this time is designated as St. Peter’s, which then is further fed by a Grade 1-4 facility and pre-K through Kindergarten facilities in our community, allowing us to enroll more students from the underserved segment of our community which requires early childhood daycare and services. This is not a done deal, but one that requires the continued study and comment of all involved. I ask our parishioners to become informed about this plan and to offer comments to the Quincy Catholic Schools at Feedback@quincycatholicsschools.org.

I will be on vacation this week, so please note the Mass schedule adjustments on the left. In the event of an emergency requiring a priest, please anticipate your needs as far in advance as possible and call the parish office during business hours (8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.). In the case of Blessing Hospital, ask your nurse or chaplain to call the Catholic priest on-call. I will also receive calls over the emergency line on our phone system, but it may take some time to work out those logistics. Thanks for your patience and see you soon again!

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

Please Join Us for Eucharistic Adoration after School Mass

This year we are learning about the Theological and Cardinal Virtues of the Catholic Church this year. We will learn that a virtue is a habitual and firm disposition to do what is good. It allows the person not only to perform good acts, but to give the best of himself. Eucharistic Adoration will be provided again this year to help us develop this time of prayer with Jesus as a habit for faith formation approximately once per month. The Eucharist will be exposed at school on the following Wednesdays following School Mass from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 12:35-2:35 p.m. with Benediction at 2:35 p.m. Last week on Wednesday, September 4, we held our first Eucharistic Adoration for this year and it was lovely. Please join us for Eucharistic Adoration October 16, November 20, January 15, February 26, April 2, and May 7.
