Third Sunday of Advent

DECEMBER 15, 2024

Zephaniah 3:14-18a; Philippians 4:4-7;
Luke 3:10-18

Today is called “Gaudete Sunday.” “Gaudete” is the Latin word for “Rejoice!” It is the first word of the Entrance Antiphon.

Our first reading is from Zephaniah, a contemporary of Jeremiah. Israel had been destroyed in 721 B.C.; only Judah remained, but Judah and Jerusalem were thoroughly corrupt.

Zephaniah warns of doom unless people repent. Most of the book of Zephaniah is depressing with its threats of “fire and brimstone.” But the last part of the book from which today’s first reading is taken, is joyful. Zephaniah sees a time when God will restore. We must rejoice because the Lord is in our midst.

The second reading was written by Paul when he was in jail at Ephesus. He suffered miserably, and most of his “friends” abandoned him. The people of Philippi helped him, however, and he wrote this friendly letter to them to thank them. He tells them (and us) to rejoice in the Lord always even when we have problems. For the Lord is with us and will see us through.

John the Baptist, like Zephaniah and Jeremiah and the prophets of old, was fiery in his condemnation of sin and evil. But his message is simple: Do good and avoid evil. If you are a businessman, be a person of integrity and honesty. If you are a laborer, give a full day’s work for your wages. If you are a policeman, don’t bully anyone.

In other words be sincere, humble, and honest in your treatment of everyone. The world might not be perfect if we put this into effect. But it would surely be more of a place of peace and joy!

3RD SUNDAY OF ADVENT

“Gaudete in Domino semper! Rejoice in the Lord always! Again I say, rejoice. Indeed, the Lord is near!” (Phil 4: 4-5).

The Church calls the Third Sunday of Advent “Gaudete Sunday” because the Entrance Antiphon begins with the word Gaudete. But this Gaudete Sunday is so much more than just knowing that Gaudete means “Rejoice” in Latin and that there are rose vestments and candles. Rather, the Church rejoices that the celebration of the Birth of Jesus Christ approaches and that the Lord is near!

The Catechism of the Catholic Church says, “When the Church celebrates the liturgy of Advent each year, she makes present this ancient expectancy of the Messiah, for by sharing in the long preparation for the Savior’s first coming, the faithful renew their ardent desire for his second coming.” By God’s grace and by our active participation in the liturgy of the Church, we are right there in the Old Testament for centuries waiting for the coming of the Messiah - the Christ! Then, on top of that, since we are on the other side of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, we are renewing our “ardent desire for his second coming.” Yes, we are soon going to be celebrating the Birth of Christ at Christmas, but we really are remembering Jesus’ promise to return.

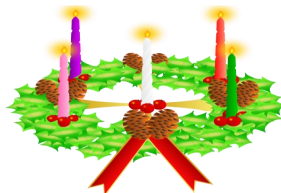

Imagine the Church as a child sitting on the edge of its pew. This little girl has been good all Advent, trying her best to remain faithful to the Gospel. Everyone is silent, especially herself as she takes a sneak peek over her shoulder. She is waiting for the Procession Bell to ring...the bells ring out! So the little girl jumps up and sings: “Gaudete! Rejoice!” Therefore, the Church today, for multiple reasons, rejoices!

This theme of Joy rings out throughout the entire Mass in the prayers, readings, and songs. After praying over the scriptures for this Sunday, I see two things: the necessity of Joy, and personal reflection of where Joy is in our lives. First, the necessity of Joy is essential. We must see today’s Joy in light of the Sacred Scriptures: All joy finds its source in God and “the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness...” (Gal 5:22). I love the Song of Joy in Zephaniah, the first reading, that God “will rejoice over you...he will sing joyfully because of you...” (Zep 3: 17). Amen! How great is our Heavenly Father that He is eternally joyful and aims His Joy over each of us!

This leads us to the critical question about where is this Joy in your life? Is your joy rooted in a relationship with God? Perhaps you are asking the same question as the crowds in the Gospel, “What should we do?!” It is relatable, because I have my own stressors and anxieties in this chapter of my life. But, I encourage you to listen to John the Baptist who “preached the good news to the people” that our Mighty Savior is coming. Also, St. Paul’s words say it best, “Have no anxiety at all, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving make your requests known to God. Then the peace of God that surpasses all understanding will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.” Let us lift up our heartfelt prayers this Advent season to God for His coming to be our source for joy.

As a new pastoral associate working at St. Francis Parish, please count on my prayers. I grew up in Quincy going to St. Peter’s. I graduated from QHS. I did my undergraduate at Illinois State University while serving in the Army Reserves. I spent three years in seminary formation and discerned out in August 2024. I am excited to serve at this parish in various ministries and pray for the joy of God to be in your life this Gaudete Sunday.

*Peace in Christ,
Andrew Bilgri*

A Note from Father Arisman: I just wanted to write something for you all to hear from me. I am shocked by this diagnosis and surgery. It still seems surreal. Multiple doctors seemed equally shocked at how bad things were. I am grateful to God I am alive! And to think, 22 thousand steps with our eighth graders in DC just a month ago! I had many substantial blockages in my heart and three 99 percent blockages in differing vessels. I am grateful for the surgeon and all the doctors and nurses who cared for me at Blessing and St. John's in Springfield. I am thankful for my parents and siblings and family that was with me and have been taking care of me. For now the doctors are limiting my visitors to guard against infections.

I am beyond grateful for your prayers and love. It has been felt this entire time. Quadruple bypass surgery is probably the most invasive and aggressive surgeries one can endure. The recovery is immensely painful and very long and slow. You don't realize how much your chest moves just from breathing, coughing, laughing, etc. I am making progress. I see it. It's actually way ahead of the game. I am still on oxygen at this time. Hearing from you has meant the world to me. Please keep praying. I was finally able to celebrate Mass Sunday and Monday for the Holy Day. I miss you all so very much. I miss being at home at St. Francis. Know of my love and eagerness to return, but I know it will be some time before the doctors release me to return. Thank you to Fr. Bruce Scott and Fr. Ken Ahanonu for their tireless work. Being gone at this time of year is really difficult as you all know I love the Christmas season! I won't really get to sport my Christmas suits at all this year! Please hug your kiddos for me and tell them how much I miss them. May you continue to have a blessed Advent and know of my prayers and offerings of sufferings for you and our parish. I look forward to seeing you again. Until then let us pray for one another and see each other in the Eucharist.
