Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time

SEPTEMBER 21, 2025

Amos 8:4-7; 1 Timothy 2:1-8;
Luke 16:1-13

Amos was a contemporary of Isaiah, Hosea, and Micah in the Eighth Century before Christ. He was a country boy from the south (Judah) who was called by God to preach to the wealthy and sophisticated north (Israel). He condemns Israel for its materialism.

The people had become attached to money and what it would buy. They did not like the “interruption” of the Lord’s Day or Sabbath, for they wanted to get back to the business of making money. They cheated by adjusting their weights and measures. They cared nothing for the less fortunate. Amos warns them that God does not forget.

Very likely, the “Pastoral Epistles” (1-2 Timothy and Titus) were not written by Paul. They may have been written by a third or fourth generation Christian who realized that Christ would probably not come in glory very soon.

The message is that the Church must learn to live in this world. Even though the Roman government was alien to Christianity, the author urges that prayers be offered for all in authority.

The longer form of the Gospel tells of a corrupt business manager who is about to be fired. He gives kickbacks to his master’s creditors so that they will take care of him after he is fired! Jesus laments that the people of “this world” are far more zealous in seeking their goals than Christians are. He tells us that we cannot serve two masters.

We have been entrusted with the riches of heaven. How sad it is that we are more concerned about the puny wealth of this world. If we don’t use this world’s goods for the glory of God, how can we be entrusted with the riches of eternity?

Twenty-fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time, September 21, 2025

Dear Parishioners,

After a short break to celebrate the Feast of the Exaltation of the Cross, the Church returns to “ordinary time” as it celebrates the 25th Sunday in Ordinary Time. Our gospel for the weekend is always an interesting gospel as it highlights someone who ends up cheating the master of the house and benefits himself. It seems that Jesus ends up commending the cheating person for behaving prudently. Even though it makes little sense in terms of being an upright and just person in dealing with things of this world, yet, in terms of this world and worldly behavior, the cheating person ends up receiving praise for serving himself in terms of worldly behavior. But what Jesus ends up concluding through this parable is that we can serve only God or wealth, and whichever one we choose has authority over us, for good or ill. So how can we know which master we are serving? As Jesus states, “you cannot serve both God and mammon.”

A good steward is the parishioner who is thankful for all that God has given to him/her. He/she is thankful for the gift of time in which we enjoy life, happiness and love. He/she is thankful for the talents bestowed upon them, talents to be used for the sake of others and not for oneself. He/she is thankful for the treasures earned and received, and open to being able to share them with others. If we are good stewards, we are truly serving God and not ourselves. Let’s be those stewards as God challenges us to be a people of thankfulness and gratitude, and thus enabling our stewardship to be reflected in all of our lives. And when we do, God continues to bless us in so many ways.

We want to welcome to our parish celebration this weekend the Junior Raiders. These young men are the Raiders of tomorrow as they learn the basics of the game of football. And one of those basics is a solid foundation of our Catholic faith. It is always so great to see our football teams center their lives around the celebration of the Eucharist.

This Tuesday, September 23, we will be celebrating our annual Catholic School’s Mass with the Bishop, priests and deacons of the area, along with all the students, faculty, and staff of all Catholic schools of the area. Please join us at the QND gym on Tuesday, at 9:30 a.m. for this celebration of our Catholic faith. Anyone interested in attending is more than welcome to be present for this celebration.

This past Thursday, September 18, I will have had my sixth chemo treatment. After this treatment, I should have a week off and then I begin my third series of treatments. Hopefully after that, I will be tested to see the effectiveness of the treatments regarding my cancer. It would be nice to conclude these treatments as they always have such a negative effect on me for several days after.

Construction continues on our new project, and the foundation seems to be taking shape. Right now, things seem to be moving slowly but the work is steady. At least for the last several weeks we have not had to contend with rain although most of our area is probably in need of some moisture. But it will come as it usually does. Let’s pray for our farmers, that God will keep them safe during harvest times and that they will reap a rich harvest.

Sacrament of Reconciliation

Saturday: 7:30-7:50 a.m.
3:30-4:30 p.m.

Fr. Leo's column continued..

Six things you never want to hear at a tattoo parlor:

1. "Eagle? I thought you said beagle."
2. "Boy, I hate it when I get hiccups."
3. "Hey, buddy, we ran out of red, so I used pink."
4. "Two O's in "Bob, right?"
5. "I bet you can't tell I've never done this before."
6. "Anything else you want to say? You've got all kinds of room back here."

If athletes get athlete's foot, do astronauts get mistletoe?

How many ears did Davy Crockett have? Three, his left ear, his right ear, and his wild front ear.

Why did the cowboy buy a dachshund? Someone told him to get a long little doggy.

New to the United States, I was eager to meet people. So one day, I struck up a conversation with the only other woman in the gym. Pointing to two men playing racquetball in a nearby court, I said to her, "There's my husband." Then I added, "the thin one—not the fat one."

After a slightly uncomfortable silence she replied, "And that's my husband, the fat one."

DIocese OF SPRINGFIELD IN ILLINOIS
OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

September 2, 2025

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Our Church mourns the terrible suffering of Christians and other innocent victims of violence in Gaza and surrounding areas who are struggling to survive, protect their children, and live with dignity in dire conditions. The Holy Father continues to call for a cease fire and for aid to enter the territory, noting with great sorrow that "Gaza is starving."

The Catholic Near East Welfare Association (CNEWA) is there providing vital emergency humanitarian relief and medical and psychological care for the sick, malnourished and wounded.

Given the extraordinary nature of this crisis, The Most Reverend Timothy P. Broglio, President of the USCCB, has asked our Diocese to take up a special collection to provide humanitarian relief and pastoral support for our affected brothers and sisters in Gaza and surrounding areas in the Middle East and send donated funds to CNEWA. This organization has well-established partnerships with the Catholic Church in the region which allows them to respond quickly and efficiently.

The situation in Gaza and across the Middle East cries out for the assistance of the Catholic community of the United States. Please prayerfully consider supporting this special collection. In lieu of envelopes, please include "Gaza" in the memo line of check offerings.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Thomas John Paprocki
