Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

NOVEMBER 16, 2025

Malachi 3:19-20a; 2 Thessalonians 3:7-12;
Luke 21:5-19

The people of the Old Covenant thought that God would render terrible judgment when the Messiah came. Evil would be destroyed in God's purifying fire. But the upright would rise to share eternal life. Our first reading expresses this expectation.

Many of the Thessalonians had quit their jobs and put on their glory robes in anticipation of the Second Coming of Jesus. Paul tells them to get back to work. The end is coming, but we don't know when. Meanwhile, we must work as well as watch and pray.

The Gospel is from Jesus' "Eschatological Sermon," the sermon on the "Last Things." Many Jews thought that the Temple priesthood had become so corrupt that God would destroy the Temple and build a new one. They thought that this would happen at the same time the Messiah came, at the end of the world as we know it.

Some of this expectation carried over into the primitive Church. Jesus says that the Temple will be destroyed, but the end of the world will not happen yet. He says that there will be many false prophets and false messiahs. There will be persecutions and all kinds of signs.

All of these signs took place before the end of the first century, but the end is not yet. But it is coming! Don't be disturbed; there are no new signs. It remains for us to watch and pray – to be ready when the Lord comes in his glory.

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time, November 16, 2025

Dear Parishioners,

As the numbers in Ordinary Time increase, it indicates that this time called “ordinary” will be coming to an end. In fact, this ordinary time concludes on the weekend of November 23, when we celebrate the Solemnity of Christ the King. So, for all practical purposes, this is the Last Sunday in what we call “Ordinary Time” in our Church calendar.

As we reflect on the conclusion of “ordinary time,” the Church draws our attention to the end of time. Whether we like it or not, the Church wants us to realize that there is an end of the gift of time, and when that comes, we must all appear before the judgement seat of God. This is not to scare us, nor is it to bring fear into our lives, but rather to prepare us for the inevitable. But it happens in all of our lives and will happen in our own. In our first reading from the Book of Malachi, we hear, “Lo, the day is coming, blazing like an oven, when all the proud and all evildoers will be stubble, and the day that is coming will set them on fire, leaving them neither root or branch, says the Lord of hosts.” Again, fear is not the word, but rather words of encouragement and words of hope for all those prepared for that day. Then our gospel continues this same theme of the end of time. But we find Jesus words telling us not to be afraid. “See that you not be deceived, for many will come in my name, saying ‘I am he,’ and ‘The time has come.’ Do not follow them! When you hear of wars and insurrections, do not be terrified; for such things must happen first, but it will not immediately be the end.” Then He said to them, “Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be powerful earthquakes, famines, and plagues from place to place; and awesome sights and mighty signs will come from the sky.” Jesus forewarns us that the world that we know will some day come to an end and then what? Well, the what is how we prepare ourselves for this inevitable. And one of the best ways is to make sure our priorities in our lives are always centered upon this God who loves us, who desires us to be a part of our lives and we are a part of His. And the best way to make Him a priority is the gift of Stewardship that He has given to us. Stewardship is the challenge to get our priorities in order. God has given us the gift of time, talents, and treasures. These gifts reflect Him as our priority in life and help us find holiness in life as we recognize the very generosity of our Lord in all of our lives. Through stewardship, we recognize and acknowledge that our God loves us and His generosity can never be outdone. So our challenge is that, as Christian stewards, the struggles we embrace in Stewardship here on earth are worth the joy and of that eternal life that awaits each of us.

This is our last weekend in our stewardship renewal. I ask you to take your commitment cards to prayer. We renew our commitment each year as a way of helping us to be reminded that everything we have and will have comes from a very generous God who loves us beyond measure. When we take our commitment cards to prayer, we let Him speak through us in our commitments of time, talents, and treasures. Plus, these commitment cards become His work, and His source of grace for how we will live this coming year. So please let God be your guiding light as your return to Him some of your time, talents, and treasures. Stewardship becomes His work and we are only ministers of it.

The theme of our Annual Commitment Renewal is being Pilgrims of Hope. Hope summarizes the deepest longing and disposition of a disciple's heart. It is not something we naturally possess or acquire on our own—rather, it is gifted to us by the grace of God. Through our pursuit of God, we begin to cultivate this virtue. Ultimately through the practice of stewardship — recognizing everything as a gift from God and using those gifts for His kingdom — we become more open to hope. As stewards striving for eternal life, we surrender all that we have to God, trusting that the grace of the Holy Spirit surpasses even our noblest efforts. With the virtue of hope, we do not grow weary, for we recognize that God hears even our smallest prayers. This is why we, as faithful stewards, are called to be beacons of hope to the world.

Please make sure that you return via mail or the collection your commitment cards. They are very important to us and reflect your sense of belonging to the parish family.

ON THE LIGHTER SIDE:

A woman loved to sing and decided to try out for the Church choir. Every night she would practice and as soon as she began singing, the family dog began to howl loudly.

After a few nights of this, her husband had had enough.

“For goodness sake, dear!” her husband shouted. “Can you please sing something the dog doesn't know.”

Are you looking for an uninterrupted quiet hour alone with the Lord once a month or every week? Doesn't everyone need an hour with the Lord? We need you and are asking for your assistance in getting the hour below filled!

Friday: 8:00 a.m.

We are still in need of substitutes to help when an Adorer cannot cover their hour due to sickness, work or other reasons, especially the middle of night hours.

Please consider an hour in the Adoration Chapel. Contact Mary at (217) 653-3127, Jean Anne at (217) 430-6967 or Gina at (217) 257-9966. Thank you!

Dying Without Fear Talk

Dying Without Fear - a talk from Deacon Dennis Holbrook will be held Monday, November 17 at 6:30 p.m. at St. Thomas Parish Hall in Camp Point. All are welcome!

Living a Christ-centered life means we can face suffering and death without fear. I pray that this talk will enlighten our perspective on this topic and how our relationship with God can truly help us approach the end of our earthly life. Ray Wheeler will accompany us that evening with music and songs.

Quincy Catholic Charities Thank You

Quincy Catholic Charities would like to thank you for all you do. We know you serve, donate and use your talents to leave a positive impact in our communities and beyond. Whatever you do is noticed.

We would like to extend our gratitude to each of you in this season of Thanksgiving. Quincy Catholic Charities is keenly aware of the needs of our communities and we know that no one can do it alone. It takes each of us to make a difference and you do make that difference! May you have a blessed Thanksgiving and give to yourself a moment to be thankful for all you have and all you are to one another.
