1 Habemus Papam! Pope Leo XIV was elected the 267th Pope on May 8 in the conclave following the death of Pope Francis. Originally from Chicago, Robert Prevost had been a priest of the Order of St. Augustine (OSA), and a missionary bishop in Peru. As an American, Leo XIV was considered a 'dark horse' candidate among the cardinal-electors. In the early months of his pontificate, Pope Leo has been noted for appointing bishops to a number of notable dioceses across the world, as well as canonizing Saints Carlo Acutis and Pier Giorgio Frassati, and taking his first apostolic visit to Turkey and Lebanon.

2 Momento mouri: Pope Leo's election followed the death of Pope Francis at the age of 88 on the Monday after Easter. Pope Francis had been elected in 2013 on the vacancy of the Holy See following the Pontificate of Pope Benedict XVI. Pope Francis had spent 38 days in the hospital in the weeks before his death, drawing the prayers of the entire Church during that time of convalescence. Francis was noted for this 'sober and humble style, founded on missionary openness, apostolic courage, and mercy'. He was entombed in the Basilica of St. Mary Major in Rome, after ceremonies witnessed by thousands in St. Peter Square and around the world by television/internet.

3 Quincy Catholic Elementary Schools continued to make progress during 2025, with the approval of by-laws by the local boards as well as Bishop Paprocki. (An explanation of the significance of this milestone can be seen on our parish website in the Bulletin archives for September 28, 2025.) These bylaws provide a foundation for continuing cooperative efforts among the sponsoring parishes in the work of providing Catholic Education for our families. In the coming year, QCES hopes to affirm a 'participation agreement' outlining the financial and operational responsibilities of the participating parishes. The mission of the Quincy Catholic Elementary Schools is to "form the next generation of Catholic disciples of Christ, in communion with families and parishes, through spiritual growth and academic excellence."

QUINCY CATHOLIC ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

4 St. Dominic School continues to work everyday to fulfill the Catholic Education mission of St. Anthony Church in large ways and small. In recent years, I have mentioned the Washington, DC trip for our eighth grade class. Another event that is a right-of-passage for our eighth graders is a presentation prepared by our students, which encourages our students to integrate the teaching of the faith with the secular disciplines that they learn as part of their educational program. These presentations are audited by judges, which the last two years have included representatives from the Office for Catholic Education from the Diocese of Springfield. We are proud of our students as they learn to integrate the lessons from faith.

5 Thanks to special sponsorship from the Tracy Family Foundation, St. Anthony Church has been participating in a couples enrichment program, established to promote healthy family life for spouses and children. Our events this year included a Valentine's Day gathering at the Knights of Columbus, summertime Date-Night Challenges, and visits to the Spirit Knob Winery. In the coming year, we hope to offer additional programming geared toward encouraging communication and fun for our couples and families as they walk the path of Christian discipleship.

6 Pope Francis opened the Holy Doors in Rome on Christmas Day of 2024, inaugurating a Jubilee Year for the Church in 2025, dedicated to the renewal of the Church as "Pilgrims of Hope." The concept of "Jubilee" has its origins in Leviticus 25, where the people of God are called to a special year of reconciliation, pilgrimage, and coming home. In addition to pilgrimages to Rome and other holy sites throughout the world, Catholics have been encouraged to take advantage of the indulgences granted as an expression of mercy and renewal while on pilgrimage and in a renewed effort to perform acts of charity and mercy.

7 St. Carlo Acutis was canonized as the first "millennial saint". St. Carlo was born in 1991, and was known for his innovative use of technology to promote Catholic teaching, and in particular to showcase Eucharistic miracles. A website providing more information about St. Carlo can be found at <http://www.carloacutis.com>, while the website founded by St. Carlo, containing the informational panels on the Eucharistic miracles, can be found at <https://www.miracolieucaistici.org>. St. Carlo died at age 15 following a brief battle with Leukemia, and is entombed in Assisi. A petition can be found on his website, asking that St. Carlo be designated the patron saint of internet users.

Students at St. Dominic School had the opportunity to dress as a saint for a day, and so in line with this new saint, rather than dressing in formal religious robes and attire, a large number figured out that a soccer jersey and shorts would suffice to remember a patron saint from their own age in St. Carlo Acutis.

8 Earlier in the year, parishioners came out to have their photos taken for a new parish pictorial directory. It has been a long wait through production delays however, we are happy to announce that the publication is at the printer and those who had their picture taken should be receiving their directories early in 2026.

9 Each year for the last several years, I have mentioned in this space the ongoing preparations for the "Centennial Campaign" promoted by the Diocese of Springfield. In honor of the 100th anniversary of the translation of the diocese to Springfield from Alton, Bishop Paprocki has asked all parishes to consider their needs with respect to debt repayment, capital improvements, and ministry capacity, looking into the 21st century. We have, happily, managed to pay off all of our debt, so we are in the next phases, considering our facilities and ministry abilities.

To the end of enhancing our ministerial offerings, a small group of young (and young-at-heart) couples have formed something of a revival of our stewardship committee of a few years back, remaining focused not so much on fundraising and financial development, so much as visioning our life as a parish and school, and the ministries that will flow from them. As a parish, before all else, we are called to be missionary disciples of the Good News, which is facilitated by buildings and ministries, but finds its genesis in the interpersonal relationships we have as a parish family. We invite those who not with us to "come and see". We invite those who have fallen away to "come home for Christmas". We try to provide meaningful moments of engagement through prayer and liturgy and all of the other things we do as a parish. After the first of the year, this group is asking to 'take the temperature' of our parish and the needs of our parishioners, and they have published a survey which we will ask our parishioners to respond to. Your thoughtful participation is encouraged and welcomed.

While the work of ministry is most important, we have also found that we are facing some engineering challenges with our 40 year old church building. In order to save money at the time of building some 'shortcuts' were authorized which now, forty years later, are resulting in concerns over the longevity and structural soundness of the building. Our engineers are not concerned about catastrophic failure under normal loads and conditions, so we need not be concerned about occupancy of the building. But as the church ages, we are expecting that we will have some great concerns about the longevity of the building to be able to serve the parish community, as well as the price and severity of on-going maintenance that will be required to keep it safe and serviceable. We do have a plan to take down the steeple in order to save stress on the walls, but this plan has not yet been implanted as we work down the list of possibilities and options to address our challenges in a comprehensive matter. Nothing will be done until we have fully briefed the parish community, but be watching for more details to come in early 2026, along with an appeal for your help.

10 As we end 2025, we remember those who have gone forth from this world unto the glory of God's kingdom.

During this year and especially recently, we have encountered the death of a number of our diocesan priests in the passing of Fr. Joe Ring and Fr. Daren Zehnle.

We also recall this year the death of Br. Earl Benz, son of the parish and a Franciscan brother for 70 years. He was most recently living in retirement in Manitowoc, WI. He very kindly remembered us each year in a Christmas card he would write to me, wishing us all happiness and good health. May our prayers be with him and all the faithful departed, that they may rest in peace

Br. Earl Benz
