Mt 28:19: Go and make disciples of all nations...

The late Dominican moral theologian, Fr. Servais Pinckaers, OP, understood the Sermon on the Mount and the Beatitudes (Matthew 5: 1-12a) as the key thematic teaching of Jesus' ministry, in that Jesus was calling his disciples to a new standard of excellence, not merely a minimal keeping of the standards of the Law. We get a taste of the subversiveness of Jesus' teachings when we hear the Beatitudes, but according to Pinckaers, we also pray these subversive teachings every time we recite the Lord's Prayer and observe the virtues of the moral life. Look at the parallels:

Blessed are the poor in spirit, theirs is the Kingdom of God (Gift of the Holy Spirit: Fear of the Lord): corresponds to the promise of a Kingdom. We acknowledge that our Father and our homeland is in the heaven, and so as pilgrims we live modestly and humbly in this world awaiting that inheritance, "Our Father who art in Heaven, holy be thy name."

Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted (Knowledge): those who mourn have the consolation of the knowledge that true faith brings about a participation in the Kingdom of God, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven".

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness (Fortitude): Seeking the object of our thirst and hunger, God himself, gives us fortitude in our earthly struggles. "Give us this day our daily bread."

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy (Counsel): Counsel is the perfection of the cardinal virtue of prudence... in acting habitually in a spirit of discernment for the good and avoidance of evil. Those who have Counsel allow God to transform them, living intentionally for the Kingdom and leading others through mercy and example to follow them. "Forgive us our sins as we forgive those who sin against us."

Blessed are the pure of heart, for they shall see God (Understanding): Understanding delights the pure of heart with beatific (Godly) vision, helping them avoid duplicity and thus temptation by being simply having one's heart fixed on God. "And lead us not into temptation."

Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God (Wisdom): Wisdom brings not only external peace, but internal contentment, for peace is not the mere absence of conflict, but tranquility of order. "But deliver us from evil."

Blessed are those who are persecuted because of me... for every struggle in this world, the Lord provides his grace and guidance, reinforced in the prayerful tradition of the Church. ...rejoice and be glad, for great is the reward of heaven! "Amen!"

As a parish community, we are called to grow together in faith, service, and discipleship. Our newly-recommissioned Discipleship Committee has created a survey opportunity for parishioners to reflect honestly on our parish life—both the areas where we are doing well and the areas where we have room to grow. Your feedback will help us recognize our strengths and identify where additional care, resources, or support may be needed.

As the Discipleship Committee, our goal is to give parishioners a meaningful voice in shaping the ministry and mission of our parish. We want to know what you value, what helps you feel connected to our parish, and what you hope to see more of in the future. By building on what we already do well and listening openly to one another, we can continue to grow together as a vibrant and welcoming parish community. We would like for each adult parishioner to complete the survey. This means in a household with spouses, that each spouse will take a separate survey. To take the survey, please use this QR code to submit it electronically. You can also take the survey by using a printed copy that will be available after Mass. You can return it next weekend in a basket that will be in the vestibule. Both electronic and paper copies will be anonymous, so please complete them with honest, constructive feedback.

Please complete the survey by Sunday, February 15. If you have any questions after Mass, members of the Discipleship Committee will be available to talk with you. Thank you for taking the time to share your thoughts and for being an active part of our parish's life and mission.

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

Celebrate Vocations Day — Our Universal Call to Sainthood

Catholic Schools across our nation celebrated being united in faith and community during the week of January 25-31, 2026. At St. Dominic School, we began the week on Tuesday with Celebrate Vocations Day. Several community heroes visited kindergarten through eighth grade classes to share their vocation life story with the students, including how they use their God-given talents to serve God and others. Our community heroes provided opportunities for students to explore some of the many life paths that enable them to use their talents in the service of God and others. Throughout our Catholic Schools Week, we focused on the themes of learning, serving, and leading to prepare K- 8 students on how use all of their God-given talents throughout their lives. Our universal call to sainthood is a lifetime of faith-filled service.
