Isaiah speaks to Israel, calling them to a new observance of the Law. Indeed, not simply to the letter of the Law, but the Mitzvahs (good deeds done out of religious duty) which spread the charity of the Law to others. In giving bread to the poor and providing shelter for the homeless, we are not only observing the Law for our own salvation, but all the more, we mystically become God's hand of deliverance and mercy which is being shown to the one who receives! By answering the cries for help, we become like the dawn for those who are walking in the valley of darkness, leading those in need to safety. When we restrain our gossip and ill-speech and accusation of others, the gloom of the accuser, who night and day curses us before God, is cast out of our midst!

Indeed, as our psalm proclaims, "the just man is a light in the darkness to the upright!" Religion forms and trains and instructs us in virtue. The choice to live a virtuous life is presented to men and women of each day and age and in every circumstance of life and living. It is that response which is salvific: it is a response to grace.

In these weeks of reading the opening chapters of Matthew, we encounter a Jesus who lays claim to teaching and interpreting the Law, not as an ordinary scribe or rabbi, nor as someone exploiting the Law for his own gain, but as one who speaks with authority, that is, from the very essence of his being. He has a personal familiarity with the Law that expands it and raises it up, rather than limiting or circumscribing it. He teaches the Law, but not simply for the sake of the Law or for even the sake of moral excellence. He invites his listeners to hear the Law as an encounter with very heart of Divine Love. Listeners are challenged to hear the Law in a way that perhaps they have not heard it before. It is a pathway to Love, not merely a guardrail for discipline or a tool for social acceptance or advancement.

And so when the Law is lived, when the law is practiced, it reveals the love and mercy of God in the world. And so this weekend's Gospel calls for those who have encountered the Law in this way to make a choice. Be salt. Be light. Don't keep the blessing of the Law hidden within you. You have something that the world needs. Indeed, the just man is a light in the darkness to the upright. How does God care for the poor and the downtrodden? Through your hands. How does he raise up the poor in spirit? Through your prayers. How does he bring about peace and justice? Through your righteousness. It is not a matter of one's own strength and excellence to bring about good, but instead of being open to God's power flowing through each of us to be a light in the darkness and to be salt when all else is tasteless.

Christianity 'looks like' something. It is not an abstraction of good feelings and well-wishes. It means rolling up one's sleeves and working in the mud. That is the very fulfillment of the mystery of the Incarnation and the celebration of Christmas, that now God appears before us, not as a God who retreats to his heaven, unable and unwilling to mix it up with this dark, ugly world. He enters the world on its own terms to raise it up and help it become holy. When we are asked, what must I do to be a better Christian, we look to the example and person of Jesus. What did he do? How did he do it? Why did he do it. It looks like something. Love looks like the cross. Sacrifice looks like his body and blood poured out as nourishment. His Word is spirit and life. The journey is a day-by-day walk "up to Jerusalem" where death and resurrection await. Mercy is healing the sick, raising the dead, forgiving the sinner. Prayer is days in the desert battling Satan himself under the protection of the angels who will not let one's foot strike a stone. Moral responsibility is the Good Samaritan who takes care of his neighbor. Wisdom is sitting with the children. Heaven is the King's Banquet where all are dressed in their finery. The Law is an abstraction for what can be good; we are the living instances of God's goodness in the world. Don't hide your light under a bushel basket or throw it on the ground to be trampled. To the glory of God, your Father, be salt! Be light!

A Message from Mrs. Carol Frericks—Principal

Children's Candlemas Celebration for Feast of the Presentation

On Friday, January 30, 2026, our preschool through eighth-grade buddies presented a Children's Candlemas Celebration for our school. The prayer service was a celebration for the feast of the Presentation of Jesus, which is also called the feast of Candlemas. Our students celebrated with all the children of the world to ask God to bless us and help us walk in the light of Jesus Christ. We said prayers of thanksgiving to God for sending us His light to help us see in so many different ways. We reenacted when Mary and Joseph took the child Jesus on their journey to present him in the temple with Simeon and Anna. When we give thanks and spread the light of Jesus' love, we serve God as disciples. When our students lead and serve sharing the light of Christ, we all experience holy moments of LOVE at St. Dominic School.

Parish Life Survey As a parish community, we are called to grow together in faith, service, and discipleship. Our newly-recommissioned Discipleship Committee has created a survey opportunity for parishioners to reflect honestly on our parish life—both the areas where we are doing well and the areas where we have room to grow. Your feedback will help us recognize our strengths and identify where additional care, resources, or support may be needed.

As the Discipleship Committee, our goal is to give parishioners a meaningful voice in shaping the ministry and mission of our parish. We want to know what you value, what helps you feel connected to our parish, and what you hope to see more of in the future. By building on what we already do well and listening openly to one another, we can continue to grow together as a vibrant and welcoming parish community. We would like for each adult parishioner to complete the survey. This means in a household with spouses, that each spouse will take a separate survey. To take the survey, please use this QR code to submit it electronically. You can also take the survey by using a printed copy that will be available after Mass. You can return it next weekend in a basket that will be in the vestibule. Both electronic and paper copies will be anonymous, so please complete them with honest, constructive feedback.

Please complete the survey by Sunday, February 15. If you have any questions after Mass, members of the Discipleship Committee will be available to talk with you. Thank you for taking the time to share your thoughts and for being an active part of our parish's life and mission.

St. Anthony Ladies Society will be hosting a Spring Craft/Vendor Event on Saturday, March 21, 9:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. at the Father Irenaeus Hall (formerly called St. Anthony hall). There will also be a bake sale and homemade cinnamon rolls as well as lunch. If you would like to help vendors carry in their items before the event or carry out afterwards please let us know. We are happy to report that all of our vendor spaces are filled? Anyone who would like to help the day of the craft show (helping in the kitchen, working at the raffle table, tearing down and resetting up the hall after the event, etc.) please contact Janet Bick (rjbick@comcast.net or 217-430-7256) or Tawny Benz (at rtbenz77@gmail.com or 217-257-0847)
