Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time

AUGUST 23, 2026

Isaiah 22:19-23; Romans 11:33-36;

Matthew 16:13-20

Catholics believe that the lawfully elected Bishop of Rome is the successor of Peter and visible head of the Church. If we have the same Church which Jesus established, we must have the office of Peter. What is this office?

It is described in today's Gospel. After Simon Bar-Jona professes that Jesus is Messiah, Jesus tells him that he did not come to this on his own ability, but that God had revealed it to him.

Jesus then changes his name from Simon to Peter (which means "Rock.") He gives him the keys of the kingdom of heaven. "Kingdom of heaven" is the Church. He tells him that whatever he binds on earth will be bound in heaven, and whatever he looses will be loosed.

"Binding and loosing" was a rabbinical expression for the authority to impose or to release from legal obligations. The meaning of the "keys" is found in the first reading: The "master of the palace" had complete authority over the king's household, second only to the king. He wore a key on a sash over his shoulder as a sign of his authority. To have the "keys of the kingdom of heaven," therefore, means to have authority second to that of Jesus Christ.

Peter is always first in the Gospel lists of apostles. Peter is the spokesman of the Church in Acts of Apostles. The Church acknowledged him as leader. It is historically certain that Peter went to Rome and was martyred there in the arena of Nero on Vatican Hill. His grave is under the high altar of St. Peter's Basilica.

The Church has always recognized, then, that the successor of Peter is the lawful bishop of Rome. The Pope does not tell us everything to do or not to do. But he is the center of Church unity. We cannot have the Church of Jesus Christ without him.

Twenty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time, August 23, 2026

A Message from Fr. Dan Bergbower

"Simon Peter said in reply, 'You are the Christ, the Son of the living God.'" Matt 16: 13-20

Jesus asks two different and distinct questions to two distinct and different groups. First he addresses his disciples. His disciples would include all who found his words engaging. So this would also include the "twelve" who would later be referred to as his apostles. Jesus' disciples responded with many different answers to the beliefs of His origins. Some say John the Baptist, some say Elijah or one of the prophets. Then Jesus ask the question to St. Peter, who do YOU say I am? The answer was swift and concise, You are the Christ, the Son of the living God! Interestingly enough, Jesus told his disciples to tell no one that he was the Christ. That being said, what would your friends say about you if asked that same question?
