Q: If we have family members who don't practice their Catholic faith, how do we approach them about this topic?

A: This is a delicate issue for sure. On the one hand, we want to respect their feelings, but on the other hand, we want them to share in the faith that is so dear to us.

Always begin with prayer. Pray for patience and perseverance. Ask God to help you be inviting, welcoming, and nonjudgmental. Acknowledge that God has planted within you the desire to lead your loved one back and because of this, he will not abandon you.

Do not nag and do not argue. Simply invite, not only to the celebration of the Mass, but to other Church gatherings and events. Sometimes, the best response you can offer is living your own Catholic life as faithfully as possible without boasting and in the spirit of humility. Actions speak louder than words.

I leave you with the following verse: "Thus says the Lord: Keep your voice from weeping, and your eyes from tears; for there is a reward for your work, ... they shall come back from the land of the enemy; there is hope for your future, ... your children shall come back to their country" (Jer 31: 16-17)
