Lectio Divina Begins! SHW Church Hall, Wednesday, October 7, 11:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. (Hospitality one half hour before each session). Our moderator, Mr. John Huston, will offer an explanation and instructions about the Lectio experience. And after that, his leadership takes a different turn: he asks questions, and he listens. Participants receive the Holy Spirit's infusion of wisdom and knowledge, and guess what? Mr. Huston is learning from the participants!! Quite the reversal of roles. Ask him, and he'll tell you: Great opportunity here: hope to see you at Lectio.

Holy Archangels Parish Picnic. Well, it was a nice group of people there. But the weather, and I suspect a bit of burnout, along with some residue remaining over this whole unified parish concept, kept some people away. I have it on good authority that Michael, Gabriel, and Raphael, our new parish namesakes, didn't show. In any event....Great food, good time with visiting parishioners...and I didn't realize it was Pastor's Appreciation Day! Many thanks for the beautiful wind chimes! I intend to put them in the yard outside my office windows, along with a few bird feeders. Thanks to our K of C's and to all who helped provide the hospitality and arrangements for the afternoon.

THANK YOU to all who assisted with and attended the Holy Archangels Parish Picnic! Special thanks to the St. James Council K of C for providing the pulled pork and set-up, the Alleman Council K of C for clean-up, and Amy Graham, Cathy Bergmeier, Lana Herdrich, Nan Wollbrink, Sandy Printy, and Lilian Solono for providing buns, paper products, and beverages. In spite of the damp weather, delicious food and fellowship were enjoyed by all. SEE YOU NEXT YEAR!!!

Mission Sunday and the Collection for the Propagation of the Faith, October 17/18. Prayer and sacrificial giving of financial gifts allow for the Church to continue her efforts for the missions around the world. Fr. Tony on Retreat the Week of October 12. I've missed five of these in a row. Although the attendance record isn't strictly enforced, nevertheless, I belong to a community of diocesan priests, and I really should be with them on retreat, as Diocesan Statutes strongly recommend. Therefore, from October 12 to 16, I'll be on retreat. Golden rule: for any emergency, I come right back home.
