Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

NOVEMBER 15, 2026

Proverbs 31:10-13,19-20,30-31;
1 Thessalonians 5:1-6; Matthew 25:14-30 or
25: 14-15, 19-21

This is the last Sunday for which we shall use green vestments until the third Sunday in January. For all practical purposes, it is the end of the Season of "Ordinary Time." Next Sunday, the last Sunday of the Church Year, is the Solemnity of Christ the King. The following Sunday is the First Sunday of Advent.

Our Gospel continues Jesus' last great sermon, the "Eschatological Sermon" or Sermon on the Last Things. Last Sunday, Jesus told us to watch and to pray, to keep our lamps burning brightly. Today he tells us to use wisely the talents given us by the Lord.

It doesn't make any difference whether we receive many talents or few; the important thing is that we use our gifts and talents for God's glory. When we use our gifts in the service of others and for the glory of God, we show a "profit," and he will bless us.

The first reading today seems to be a bit of male chauvinism. It speaks of a worthy wife who does everything to please her husband. But the Church does not use this reading as a commentary on women. Rather, the Church sees herself as the "worthy wife" of Christ.

We, the Church, are to strive to reflect the glory of Christ in all things. We are called to bring him good all the days of our lives. (The reading is from the last chapter of Proverbs.)

Our second reading is from the last chapter of 1 Thessalonians. Paul has stated that the end will come, and that we must always be ready. But we don't know when the end is coming.

All of the signs of the end took place a long time ago; we await no new "signs." It only remains for us to watch and to be prepared as children of light. Let us suppose that today is the last day of our life. How would we live it? Live each day that way!

33RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

In the Book of Proverbs, we hear of a woman whose worth is far greater than precious jewels. Her strength, generosity, and willingness to work are praised, but above all, we are reminded that "charm is deceptive and beauty fleeting; the woman who fears the Lord is to be praised." This is a reminder that what truly matters in the eyes of God is not our outward appearance, our possessions, or the recognition we receive from others, but the goodness of our hearts and the way we live our faith. Each of us has been blessed with gifts and opportunities, and God calls us to use them in ways that serve others and give Him glory.

In the Gospel, Jesus tells the parable of the talents, reminding us that we have all been entrusted with something valuable. The question is not how much we have been given, but what we choose to do with it. We can allow fear, complacency, or the temptation to compare ourselves with others to keep us from using our gifts, or we can put them to work for the Kingdom of God. Our time, talents, resources, and even the simple opportunities we have each day to love and serve others are gifts from God. He does not expect us to have someone else's gifts; He asks us to be faithful with the ones He has given us. May we never bury what God has entrusted to us, but instead use it generously and courageously, so that one day we may hear those beautiful words: "Well done, my good and faithful servant."

Thank you for your prayers and support during the loss of my uncle Monsignor Leo Enlow. Keep my family and especially his siblings in your prayers.

Thank you also for helping to change how we operate at Mass. It has become noticed by myself, new people, and young families how much more welcoming people are. Young families have talked about how caring and patient and welcoming people have become. Many new people comment on the welcome and kindness from people. I notice it too. We can always be better and it takes everyone. Please keep being hospitable and welcoming to everyone. If someone looks not familiar, please welcome them. If a family seems to be struggling, be patient and pray for them and welcome them. We can really be Christ to people and that will keep them coming back. Thank you for helping others desire to be here to encounter Jesus Christ in you and His flesh and blood in the Eucharist.

Father Arisman

"Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you have been faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities." – Matthew 25:21

God calls us to nurture and develop the gifts He has given us and then generously return a portion with increase. He doesn't want us to waste or hoard the gifts He has given us. He expects us to grow our gifts, to use them wisely, and to be generous with them. Unfortunately, many of us are not generous in proportion to all that God has given us. God asks us to be generous with all our gifts, especially the one that means the most to you.

Pope Leo XIV Speaks [#19]

Disinformation did not begin with AI, yet today it finds a powerful amplifier in AI. The ability to manipulate content, images and videos exposes people to biased or misleading perspectives. This problem has both cultural and moral dimensions, since the quality of public communication depends directly on social trust and, in turn, shapes it.

– Magnifica Humanitas, 132

Thought of the Week:
"The poor of our day are the forgotten and the marginalized: robbed not only of bread, but also of a voice and a face."
